Gunfire Breaks Out In France's Coal Mine Strike

PARIS (AP)—The Interior Ministry announced that at least one miner was killed today as gunfire broke out for the first time in the bitter 20-day-old French coal strike.

The announcement said the fatality occurred at Firminy, five miles west of St. Etienne, when strikers "counter-attacked" the police.

D.P.'s In Manitoba Go To Logging Camps In Ontario

OTTAWA (CP)—Displaced persons living in the Emerson, Man., camp will be moved in the near future regardless of reports on conditions under which they have lived, Arthur MacNamara, deputy minister of labor, said today.

Mr. MacNamara said the men would be moved in about a week's time when work in the sugar beet fields where they have been employed comes to an end.

They are being taken on for work in Fort Francis, Ont., logging camps by the Ontario and Minnesota Paper Co.

"The camp was only temporary," Mr. MacNamara said of the Emerson establishment.

The Manitoba health department issued a report today on the conditions under which the men have lived.

Seek Appeal On Farmer's Sentence

Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan will hear Joseph McKenna, barrister, on Monday when he applies for leave to appeal the six-month sentence imposed Thursday in Saanich Police Court on George Farmer, 2651 Anson Place.

Charged with assaulting William Taylor, Telegraph Road, and occasioning him actual bodily harm, Farmer was found guilty and given the sentence without option of a fine. He is being held in the city lockup.

Farmer was out pleasant hunting on the early morning of Oct. 16 when the alleged assault took place on Taylor's property.

Question Couple; Toronto's 'Slave Boy' Recognized

TORONTO (CP)—An elderly couple who occupied a big white house at suburban Summerville, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Smith, today admitted to police that Gordon Kelly, "slave boy" who said he was held a prisoner for more than a year, had been staying at their home.

64 POUNDS AT 19

York Township police said that although the starving boy only weighed 65 pounds, he was 19 and not 14 as first believed. He had attended the Silverthorn school in York Township until the seventh grade. No charges have been preferred against the Smiths and the matter has been referred to the Children's Aid Society.

The Smiths were taken from their home at Summerville, about 20 miles west of here, today after a search of the area where the boy said he had been held prisoner. Police said the couple was reticent about supplying details, but finally admitted the youth had lived with them.

The mystery of Kelly's origin remained as baffling as ever, but the Smiths denied they had ill-treated him.

Police said Mrs. Smith told them the boy had been in her charge since he was very young and that he had not gone to school since 1942. She said he had been ill since that time and that she had a medical certificate to prove it.

The Smiths told police the boy had been fed three meals a day while he was with them.

Wards Of Society Removed

Stewart Sutton, director of the Toronto Children's Aid Society, issued a statement saying that at one time Mrs. Smith looked after mentally-deficient wards for the society. However, later the society ruled that she was incapable of giving them care and the children were removed from her home.

Police said they were investigating the possibility the boy's parents were still alive and were questioning his relatives.

A 24-hour search for the premises where the boy said he had been a captive led to the Smith home on the Etobicoke River.

When a reporter asked: "This is where Gordon was living, isn't it?" Mrs. Smith replied: "I ain't talking."

Israel, Egypt Comply With U.N. Truce Order

TEL AVIV (CP)—Fighting in the Negev Desert area of southern Palestine came to a standstill at 6 a.m. today—the United Nations deadline for the cease-fire—official Israeli reports said.

Three hours after the deadline, an Israeli army spokesman declared: "There is absolute quiet on the whole southern front."

Earlier in the day, air raid sirens had wailed in Tel Aviv. Anti-aircraft fire could be heard, but the cease-fire order met the deadline set by the acting United Nations' mediator, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche.

Egyptian artillery pounded Israeli-held roads in southern Palestine this morning apparently in a last-minute blow before the cease-fire was to take effect, the Jewish army said.

The daylight air raid alert lasted an hour and a half. It was reported unofficially that some small bombs were dropped in the general coastal area, south of the Israeli capital.

Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion Thursday night sent a telegram to the Israeli commander on the Negev Desert front, congratulating him.

Ben-Gurion asked the commander to "convey the thanks of the Jewish people and the Israeli government to the soldiers who liberated the Negev by capturing Beersheba."

"With your blood a link with our forefather Abraham has been re-established."

7 Greeks Executed; 50 Under Arrest

ATHENS (AP)—Police announced today that seven Communists convicted of crimes against Greece had been executed. Fifty other Communists were arrested in a check-up of one Athens suburb early this morning, officials said. The Communist Party is outlawed in Greece.

STUDIED BY S.P.C.A.

Official circles are more restrained in their comment, but they don't approve either.

S.P.C.A. head D. G. Ricardo said his organization was meeting to consider the problem.

"We are working hard through the radio and the press to instill in children the principle of kindness to animals," he said. "Our attitude is certainly at variance with an encouragement to slaughter animals for money."

"We are gravely concerned over the possible results of (Mr. Munro's) campaign. They (children) have not the knowledge or equipment to do it humanely."

Four Lose Lives When Car Goes Off Hope Bridge

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three Vancouver residents and a Cloverdale, B.C., farmer were killed early today when their automobile crashed through the Hope, B.C., bridge, about 100 miles east of here.

The dead: John Oliver, 34, of Vancouver; Clark R. Greenaway, 40, Cloverdale farmer, and Betty Rouck, about 20, Vancouver, and a woman identified only as Sandra.

The four were apparently on a hunting trip, with guns, ammunition and rubber boots amid the wreckage. The car apparently struck the bridge guard rail, careened 60 feet into the opposite rail, and hurtled 150 feet to the bank of the Fraser River below.

HEARD BY RESIDENT

All four persons were dead when a nearby resident awakened by a sound "like two blasts," reached the scene.

The accident occurred about 1:30 a.m.

Residents at Hope have expressed concern about the safety of the bridge, one-half mile east of the town, because it is narrower than the approach on either side.

Greenaway, the driver of the car, was a well-known Surrey resident. He was a director of the Lower Fraser Valley Agricultural Association, and Cloverdale representative of the British Columbia Coast Vegetable Marketing Board.

Oliver was a Yukon taxi operator, and was on his way to Kamloops to visit his sister.

Flour Firm Plans $61,000 Warehouse

The second major construction job authorized by the city this week was announced today.

Ogilvie Flour Mills Company Limited plans construction of a $61,000 warehouse at the northeast corner of Douglas and Discovery Streets. Address is 2001 Douglas Street.

Permit for the large building was issued by J. W. Oosterink, city building inspector. Earlier in the week British America Paint Company was authorized to build a $22,000 warehouse on Belleville Street.

Contractors for the flour mills warehouse is Commonwealth Construction Company, and architects are Birley, Wade and Stockhill.

The warehouse will have 59-foot frontage on Douglas Street and will extend back from the street 70 feet. It will be reinforced concrete with concrete floors, built-up flat roof and modern finish. Gas heating will be used.

In The Magazine Tomorrow---

VICTORIA'S artistic talent is graphically displayed in tomorrow's edition of the Daily Times magazine. Bill Halkett's camera has made vivid reproductions of some brilliant local works, that stamp island artists among the leaders of the young, virile Canadian school.

In an accompanying article Humphrey Davy makes a stirring call to all art lovers in the city.

Roy Thorsen, well known for his writings on Canadian open-air life, presents under the title "Reward—Death or Untold Wealth," the story of a 1948 bid to solve an old-time British Columbia mystery.

Landlords Disappointed Ceiling Not Eliminated On Domestic Dwellings

Overpaid By U.S.

Joseph P. Earley, Cleveland, O., holds envelopes containing $50 cheques which the U.S. government has been sending him by mistake since 1945. Joe entered the army in 1942 and had the cheques sent home to his wife, Ruth, but when he returned to civilian life they kept coming. Government agencies refused to accept the cheques so he opened one and discovered a return address. Immediately he started the cheques on their way back to Washington. — (NEA Telephoto)

Rental controls should be handed over by Ottawa to the provincial governments, landlords and real estate agents said when they heard today that control on domestic rents had been extended for another year.

Landlords, who were hoping for an order lifting rental control, said the respective provinces were more capable of dealing with the question of rents as the problem differed across Canada.

They did not see how the constitutionality of continuing rental control could be upheld before the courts. They predicted when the question was tested before the courts, judgment would be rendered in favor of the provinces.

"The provinces gave to the federal government their jurisdiction over civil and property rights during the war," they said. "This jurisdiction was to be handed back when the war emergency period was over. How can the federal government say now that there is still an emergency?"

Unlikely Province Will Act

It is considered unlikely at the Parliament Buildings that the provincial government will accept the federal government's proposal that the province take over administration of rent controls.

Victorians received the news of a 10 per cent boost on domestic rent control, effective Nov. 1, with mixed feelings.

Landlords were disappointed that rent control had been extended for another year beyond next March as they hoped rental control would be lifted.

Real estate brokers felt that Finance Minister Abbott's announcement would have little effect on domestic rents and prices of homes.

The man on the street felt that the price increase would raise the cost of living for many people.

As a whole the consensus was there would be very little change in domestic rents.

Landlords said the 10 per cent boost in rents would provide them with some relief.

Helps Meet Fuel Bills

The announcement of an additional over-all increase of 5 per cent for all housing accommodations where heat is supplied, also met with the approval of landlords.

Landlords said fuel cost had gone up and the 5 per cent increase would make up for losses.

Some real estate agents expressed the opinion that the new order would not affect the price of homes, but rather "affirm" the market which has been soggy for the last few weeks.

Landlords felt that rents on new apartments would remain the same as these were now charging maximum rent.

Rent control on new apartments was lifted last year.

As for older apartments, it was pointed out that in some cases landlords were receiving very low rents since the start of the war.

Rents in some cases were as low as $25 and $35 a month. Most people felt the increase in rents for these apartments were justified.

Possession Made Easier

Real estate agents said the announcement that a landlord who bought a dwelling before Nov. 1, 1947, may evict a tenant by saying he needs the accommodation for his family, was fair. The order also stipulates that he may not sell or rent again before April 1, 1950.

Some people felt that the government's allowances cases and 26 lords complete rights over their homes. They felt that if landlords had been permitted to do what they wanted with their homes, this would have put many more houses on the market. Under the present system a landlord has to live in the house for two years before selling.

The Citizens' Rehabilitation Committee felt that the boost in rents would have little effect on relieving or improving the housing situation.

The increase, the officials said, would work very little hardships on veterans as the rents for the older apartments were exceptionally low in most cases.

Vancouver Apartment Rents May Increase 100 Per Cent

VANCOUVER (CP)—Rents of apartments declared legally vacant may advance as much as 100 per cent, it was forecast by rental agents here today.

The new federal rent control plans provide that all accommodation "which may from time to time become legally vacant" will be decontrolled.

TO BE FIXED AT WILL

The owner will be able to fix the rent on this type of dwelling as high as he wants and agents predicted increases ranging from 25 to 100 per cent.

Regulations to give owners occupancy of homes, purchased before Nov. 1, 1947, but now rented, are expected to increase property values. The present tenant may be given notice to vacate at the end of six months, provided the owner needs the accommodation for himself and his family. If he takes possession, he may not rent or sell before April 1, 1950.

Real estate dealers said prospective buyers have been holding off purchasers because they could not take occupancy of their own homes.

It was estimated that 80 per cent of Vancouver's homes and apartment tenants face the possibility of rent increases.

IN SASKATCHEWAN

REGINA (CP)—Prices Board officials here today said relatively few tenants will be affected by the local rent ceilings as announced by Finance Minister Abbott in Ottawa.

If press reports are correct, they said, it is doubtful if more than 5,000 tenants will be immediately affected in the whole of southern Saskatchewan.

Cardinal Hlond Of Poland Dies

WARSAW (AP)—August Cardinal Hlond, Primate of Poland, died today. He was 67.

Cardinal Hlond, an outspoken foe of the Communist-led Polish government, died at 10:30 a.m., of pneumonia, which he developed after undergoing an appendicitis operation.

His death reduced the membership of the College of Cardinals to 56. Its full quota is 70.

He had been a cardinal since 1927. That year he was appointed Archbishop of Posen and Primate of Poland to succeed the late Cardinal Djbler.

New Cook Street May Get New Lights

Ald Frank Mulliner, chairman of the city's street lighting committee, announced today steps will be taken to modernize lighting on that portion of Cook Street which recently was rebuilt.

A street lighting improvement program started this year will be completed in two years, he reported. Victoria West will have additional lights soon.

In the improvement program was the installation, completed recently, of new lights on Gorge Road from the Saanich boundary to Douglas Street.

THAT the international spotlight would be turned on me, that I would be represented to the world as the protagonist of a bizarre plot, and that I would find myself a prisoner in the Soviet consulate, all within the span of a single afternoon, were inconceivable to me after I left the farm of the Tolstoy Foundation.

Upon arrival at the consulate, I was taken up to the study of Consul General Lomakin on the third floor. There was a man in the room I had never seen before. Lomakin introduced him: "This is our Ambassador."

I looked directly at Panyushkin and saw deep satisfaction written on his face at the sight of the quarry. He greeted me coldly. Yet hope stirred within me as he said: "What a pity you didn't try to see me before. Didn't you know that the Soviet government had an ambassador in Washington? Why didn't you come to me in the first place?"

Ambassador Gives Me Hope

AT LAST, I thought, here was a humane Soviet official who would listen to my grievances and would understand my plight, even my worries over my missing son. I was prepared to hear him reproach me for concealing the fact that my husband had been purged and for my failure to sail back home on the scheduled boat.

I began to tell Ambassador Panyushkin of the persecution to which I had been subjected during my two years in the United States at the hands of the school and consular authorities, adding that I had never committed any crime. I mentioned that I had become the butt of all the Party members around the school because of my constant anxiety to learn the fate of my son.

"And where is your son?" the ambassador asked. When I told him that I had last heard of my boy on January 12, 1942, as reported "missing in action," he said laughingly: "Perhaps your son really is still alive."

The ambassador made no offer to have the army records checked or to help me in any way in my search for information about my son. Instead, he cut the interview short.

"We can't bother with such things now," he interrupted. "We have to expose the Tolstoy Foundation and find out where the Samarin are."

Passport Taken Away

LOMAKIN and Vice Consul Chepurnykh then took me in hand. Lomakin pointed to an adjoining room, the door of which was open, and said: "This will be your room." I had noticed a cot in it, which seemed out of place in an office with three telephones, and decided that preparations had been made in advance to put me up there. I realized that I would not be free to select a residence of my own choice, and was filled with apprehension that the room on the third floor would become my cell. My passport was taken up and examined. I never saw it again. Lomakin informed me that I would soon meet the representatives of the American press for an interview.

"You will tell them how you were kidnapped," he added. I reflected that since I was apparently myself in the hands of kidnappers, how could I possibly stand up against them now? When asked about my relations with Countess Tolstoy, I emphatically declared that she had had nothing to do with the planning which brought me to the farm of her Foundation. I made up my mind that the name of the woman who had suffered so much from Soviet tyranny and was sacrificing herself for the Russian DP's must not be involved in the affair.

"Who did help you?" Chepurnykh asked. "We know all your friends and the people you met," he added. Then he brought up the name of "Gostello" or "Leo Costello" which I had once jotted down on a scrap of paper which had probably been picked up by my landlord Porjnikov, the consulate secretary.

As the reader already knows, it belonged to a casual acquaintance who frequented the same Central Park neighborhood that I did, and was probably not even his real name.

Told What I Was To Say

"TELL THEM that the marks on your arm were made by Costello," Lomakin instructed me to say to the reporters.

"We'll make a national heroine out of you in the Soviet Union," Chepurnykh said. He tried to buoy me up as he wormed out of me the name of "Dr. Korzhinsky," my other chance acquaintance who had introduced himself to me on Riverside Drive as a compatriot from the Ukraine under the name of Kojansky.

In the course of the interrogation, when I was already in a state of exhaustion, I described how I met Vladimir Zenzinov, who took me to the Tolstoy Foundation farm, and told of my unhappiness there. Chepurnykh then suggested that I rewrite my original letter to the consulate. I balked at his dictation after I had started the new version with the same beginning, "What happened had to be." I was unyielding when I realized that what Lomakin and Chepurnykh wanted was a completely new version of my letter, in which I would declare in writing that I had been kidnapped by White Guards, who had drugged me first, and taken me against my will to the Tolstoy Foundation farm. Chepurnykh also dinned into my ears that the new letter must be short, to be exhibited to the press, and must include some tribute by me to "the great Stalin, the leader of my beloved fatherland."

Dope Plot Invented

I WOULD NOT budge, and dropped the pen. Hurriedly Chepurnykh then outlined to me the highlights of the story that I was to give to the press downstairs. It was a nightmarish concoction of a plot which only NKVD minds could invent.

The design sketched by Chepurnykh teamed together two total strangers who had never met, "Leo Costello" and Dr. "Korzhinsky," and entangled them with Vladimir Zenzinov and Countess Tolstoy, who had never heard of their existence.

"The marks on my arm assume enormous importance. I was told that photographers would be present, and that these spots would be material evidence of great consequence. I protested that they hardly showed and that they were meaningless anyhow, as I did not know their origin. All my protestations were brushed aside peremptorily.

I realized that I was in a trap. Lomakin, Chepurnykh and their aides were rehearsing the story with me, and kept briefing me on how to behave and what to say in answer to questions. I was to take the lead from them and do as little talking as possible, so as to give my interpreters the opportunity to explain what had happened.

As I was led downstairs to face a battery of reporters, in a

Better markets abroad mean bigger payrolls at home

Like other basic industries of British Columbia, our fisheries depend largely upon export markets for steady employment of large numbers of men and women and maintenance of high wage standards. The battle for these markets is unending. It is a situation which can only be met by more intensive sales efforts, better marketing methods and highest quality products. Only by the willing co-operation of all concerned—fishermen, plant employees, technicians and management—can these markets be maintained and extended, to the benefit of all.

Rent Control Relaxed; Continues To March, 1950; Ceiling Raised

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott announced today the federal government plans to extend domestic rent control for another year beyond next March 31—unless the provinces wish to take over—and disclosed that another boost in rent ceilings is being granted.

The rental increases will not become effective until the expiration of present leases.

They will take this form:

1. An over-all 10 per cent jump for all landlords who did not avail themselves of the 10 per cent increase authorized in May, 1947.
- Landlords who did take the 1947 increase and gave their tenants the conditional two-year lease do not get the increase.

HEATED QUARTERS

2. An additional over-all increase of 5 per cent for all housing accommodation where heat is supplied, regardless of whether the general 10 per cent boost was put into effect.

At the same time, Mr. Abbott announced these relaxations in the over-all rent control:

1. After Nov. 1 this year, all accommodation which becomes legally vacant will automatically be decontrolled and the landlord may rent it however he wishes. This does not apply to rooms or so-called shared accommodation.
2. After Nov. 1 anyone who has purchased housing accommodation before Nov. 1, 1947, may give the present tenant notice to vacate at the end of six months, provided he declares he needs the accommodation for himself and his family and undertakes not to rent or sell it before April 1, 1950.

MAY MAKE APPLICATION

3. Any landlord who acquired a house at any time and who wishes to occupy it himself may apply to a commissioner for power to give a valid notice to vacate on the grounds that he is suffering a greater hardship than his tenant.

Constitutionality Of Control Before Courts At Toronto

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott today, announcing rental control changes, noted briefly that the constitutionality of continuing the measure now is being contested in the courts at Toronto, but said he was not prepared to say how far the Dominion would go in appeal if the lower courts should decide the control legislation was illegal.

However, he said he did not think the judgment of the trial judge—if he upsets the legislation—should be taken as determining the law. This indicated to observers that the Dominion would make at least one appeal to a higher court, in which it might not go beyond that if the judgment was upheld.

He indicated the Dominion would drop its rent control if the higher courts held the legislation to be unconstitutional. Such a ruling would mean that the rental administrations would be unable to enforce the regulations in the courts.

REPEAL POSSIBILITY

In the event of such a ruling, the Dominion would repeal the legislation at the following session of Parliament.

Mr. Abbott said he could not say what form of legislation will be introduced at the next session of Parliament to extend the rent controls for another year. The existing legislation is the continuation of Transitional Measures Act. It dies automatically on March 31 along with any controls inherent in it.

Discussing the proposed ceiling increases, he said a "substantial" number of landlords had put the 10 per cent increase into effect when it was offered last year and it was not expected many tenants would be affected by the new 10 per cent offering.

At the same time, he said he had had no approaches from any province which indicated it wanted to take over the control. He conceded there would be nothing to prevent a province from taking over the rental field at its own request and then promptly abandoning it and making all accommodation within its borders control-free.

In addition, it will—subject to parliamentary approval—pay the cost of any provincial rental administration for one year.

Mr. Abbott said he was making his announcement at this time so that any provincial government which wishes to do so will have sufficient time to prepare the necessary legislation.

Coal Production Up For September

Coal production in British Columbia during September was well ahead of September, 1947, production but the year's output to date is behind that of last year because of strikes early this year.

This was shown today by the chief inspector of mines. In his report production of all districts last month exceeded September, 1947, production.

Vancouver Island output was 39,268 long tons last month, compared with 36,285 long tons during the previous September. Out for the year to date is 254,069 tons, compared with 339,071 tons for the January-September period of 1947.

September output (with September, 1947, output in brackets following) for the main Vancouver Island producers was: Comox Colliery, 15,706 (14,714); Tsable River Mine, 2,672 (618); No. 10 Mine, South Wellington, 15,672 (17,195); White Rapids Mine, 4,350 (2,774).

September output for the province was 160,412 tons, compared with 136,817 tons during the previous September. This brought the production for the first nine months of the year to 1,069,785 tons, compared with 1,088,270 tons for the corresponding period of 1947.

Production of collieries in the east Kootenay district in September of this year totaled 115,788 tons.

$30,000 Development Work Under Way On Island Highway

New development work estimated to reach a total outlay of $30,000, has been commenced in the Goldstream district at the intersection of the Island Highway and the Old Victoria Road, a short distance north of Langford Lake.

Plans of Rupert Stephens, recent purchaser of 41 acres of what was formerly known as the old Pooley estate, call for the early planting of 20 acres of mixed small fruits and the construction of buildings which include a 10-room residence.

Present activities of bulldozers, carpenters and slash burning have been creating much speculation amongst passing motorists, as the property, which has long been regarded as wilderness, now shows to good advantage, a formation of natural terraces.

Russian Efforts To Smother Broadcasts From U.S. Boomerang

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia's reported all-out effort to smother "Voice of America" radio broadcasts may be boomeranging.

U.S. listening posts have picked up a total of 18 Soviet stations, mostly centered around Moscow and Vladivostok, which State Department officials say are used to "jam" the "Voice" programs.

These officials add, however, that they have reason to believe the jamming never succeeds entirely and that the reaction is one of intensified interest; they want to find out what information it is their government seeks to deny them.

The United States is not trying to retaliate by jamming Soviet broadcasts to this continent, the authorities say, but is making a special effort in its broadcast to Russia to tell Russian people all the news their government may not be giving to them.

There is evidence that this news is getting through, officials say, citing the Kasenkina case as an example.

As a food-producer, the musk ox yields about double the meat of a reindeer and at least double the milk.

Rooms Not Being Changed

The rental increases being granted do not affect rooms or so-called shared accommodation and certain accommodations where the rental has been fixed officially on a "fair rental" basis.

Mr. Abbott explained to a press conference that the effect of the increases in the ceiling is this:

A landlord who took the 10 per cent increase when it was offered last year does not get it now. However, if he provides the heat, he can take the 5 per cent boost being authorized for that purpose.

A landlord who did not take the 10 per cent increase last year can take it now. If he also heats the premises, he gets the 5 per cent increase as well, making a 15 per cent boost in all.

However, landlords may not put these increases into effect until present leases have expired. In the cases of monthly leases, which expire at the end of each month, the increases may become effective Dec. 1 this year.

Mr. Abbott said he was making his announcement at this time so that any provincial government which wishes to do so will have sufficient time to prepare the necessary legislation.

At the same time, he said he had had no approaches from any province which indicated it wanted to take over the control. He conceded there would be nothing to prevent a province from taking over the rental field at its own request and then promptly abandoning it and making all accommodation within its borders control-free.

OFF TO A DOUBTFUL START

ALTHOUGH IT IS NOT DISTINGUISHED for its warm-hearted support of the King administration—it has berated it on numerous occasions—the Financial Post of Toronto pulls no punches when it detects anything in the editorial columns of its contemporaries which offends its sense of dignity and fair play. Thus the widely-read journal has "gone to the mat" with a vengeance in the case of the Globe and Mail's bitter attack on Mr. John Diefenbaker's campaign manager and others who were instrumental in furthering the bid of the member of the House of Commons for Lake Centre for the leadership of the National Progressive Conservative Party at the recent convention. Not only are these opponents of the Toronto daily's own candidate, Colonel George Drew, given a sound verbal lashing; the newspaper commands that these Diefenbaker supporters "be well marked and given a wide berth in the future," because "they have nothing to contribute which is of value to the party."

The Globe and Mail's specific allegation is that Mr. Diefenbaker's manager "circulated rumors and innuendos" which "gave currency to the malicious reports and disreputable slogans manufactured by hostile Liberal journalists." Consider the following comment from the Post:

This demand for putting a cordon sanitaire around Diefenbaker supporters is poor advice for a party trying to re-establish itself as truly national and hoping to gain strength.

The Globe and Mail may believe that those who did not fight for its candidate, George Drew, were wrong-headed and it may not have liked their "electioneering."

But it will be unfortunate if the purge command is heeded.

Here is only one of many good reasons: Any successful and truly national party cannot be the voice of just one man or of a small knot of men. The leader and his close associates are going to have to tolerate in the party a lot of people with whom they may not see eye to eye. They are going to have to do a lot of listening to opinions they may not like.

Frequently, in political as in private affairs, the advice that is unpleasant is the best advice. The advice of yes-men, time-servers, fawners and flatterers is pleasant—and less reliable.

The Conservative Party won't grow in stature if it depends solely on the personality of one man and if it tries to make all its members goose-step in his shadow.

That is, indeed, calling a spade a spade. It may fan the fury of the Globe and Mail's contemporaries that are beginning to ask whether the great and wealthy Province of Ontario is to be governed from the Board Room of the newspaper over which Publisher George McCullagh presides—wondering, perhaps, what role the G. and M. is destined to play in the event of a Progressive Conservative victory at the next federal general election. Reporters of rival Toronto newspapers, we are told, complain that provincial government news has a way of breaking just too late for the headlines of the Globe and Mail's competitors. All of which will tend to intrigue that element of the Canadian public not familiar with the close friendship which for some time has existed between Messrs. Drew and McCullagh—a condition, too, that may be "well marked" by some.

Apart from the newspaper controversy, what is Major-General Peakes, Progressive Conservative member of the House of Commons for the important Vancouver Island riding of Nanaimo, going to say about his inclusion in the "purge" demanded by the Globe and Mail? As we remarked in these columns at the time, the address with which he nominated Mr. Diefenbaker was not only a dynamic utterance, but by far the best of the three. His neatly-phrased eulogy of the member for Lake Centre, the precise documentation of his numerous personal qualities, and the tribute he paid to Mr. Diefenbaker's valuable contributions to the debates of Parliament—all these transgressions against the McCullagh concept of what the procedure before and at the convention ought to have been should net the Nanaimo member a pack of trouble from his national leader.

TOO BIG FOR WHAT?

PROBABLY BECAUSE THE MAKE-believe world of Hollywood has applied a specific character to off-the-set activities of residents in that locality, the news that the slayer of Benjamin (Bugsy) Siegel cannot be arrested without delay has in it some elements of melodrama. The explanation of the chief of police, however, that "the persons involved are so big we can't go out and give them the bum's rush," hardly adds to the reputation of forces upholding law and order. "Too big" for what?

Is it the implication that wealth and prestige are obstructions in the path of justice? Or is the underworld connected with the killing of the former so-called "ganglord" too strong for the agency set up to maintain the peace? At a time when the gangland methods of the bootleg era are becoming more evident in various parts of the continent, such admissions are essentially destructive.

The instance is not singled out as a sample of our neighbour's methods of handling crime. It might have occurred elsewhere. But a world which has so recently rid itself of such big-time gangsters as Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo can have scant patience with any inclination to magnify current criminals to the proportions once given Al Capone and Dillinger. Any community can handle its criminals if its people are prepared to take courageous and honest action. Under those circumstances no one is "too big" to obstruct justice.

GONE FAR ENOUGH

IF THE AIM OF THE COMMUNIST

Party is to push France down into the position of a third class nation at this critical stage of the world's affairs, it would appear to be enjoying fair success. The strikes and threats of strikes that have crippled French industry at short intervals during the past two years, the current walkouts of coal miners, the hampering of rail and transport communications, and the economic disruptions that have periodically threatened the existence of various French governments—all these have resulted in the decline of French prestige in international affairs and the reduction of the country's importance in the West's program of security. Such a fact, of course, will afford the Communists and their supporters joy rather than regret, for adherence to the Russian ideology seems to have replaced loyalty to France that in times past made the nation one of the world's greatest.

The collapse of France would represent the defeat of a large and important section of the European Recovery Program—something that is very prominent on the agenda of the Communist international planning board. Not only would the plans of smaller countries be badly shaken by such a tragedy, but the whole scheme of western defence would suffer a serious blow. Although much help can be given from outside, the remedy must come from within. If Frenchmen have decided they wish no longer to exist as an independent nation, if they would willingly undergo a defeat far greater than any Bismarck inflicted upon them, then there is little that the allies of France can do in the face of a tendency to suicide.

The truth, fortunately, is that the Communists form a very small minority of the population of France. All that is needed is an awakening of the vast body of French men and women to a realization of the situation and their importance to Europe and the world. How soon that awakening will come is not yet clear. The danger lies in the threat that Communism will gain such a hold on the country that the public will turn to the forces of the extreme right as an antidote. It will become successively harder to tread the middle, democratic road.

CHAIN REACTION

WHATEVER LESSON MAY BE READ

Into the account of the day's layoff to which 8,000 men in the Dodge main plant of Chrysler Corporation were subjected, the result of one man's action has been spectacularly startling. According to the report, one employee violated safety rules by rushing for the time clock at quitting time. As a matter of discipline, he was suspended for a day. Twenty-four fellow-employees in the trim department quit work in protest. The company said it was forced to halt final assembly of cars and sent the 8,000 home. The attitude of the vast number which lost a day's work and pay may be easily imagined. We wonder what they think of the sense of responsibility shown by the two dozen who supported the original offender.

Regardless of any personal complaints or manifestations of union solidarity, however, the incident discloses the opportunities for sabotage in highly unionized and specialized fields of production. If a few men made a point of rushing the time clock or of violating other rules, and if their actions expanded in a like degree to that which provoked trim department employees, the entire industry could be speedily disrupted over a minor consideration. Important production, instead of accelerating, might eventually grind to a stop.

MAKING HEADWAY?

THERE IS A SENSE OF CAUTIOUS

optimism in the news reports from Paris telling of support by the Big Five for a Mexican resolution appealing for a settlement of their differences. That, of course, is not a new idea. The powers have been trying to "settle their differences" ever since the end of the war. It is from lack of agreement as to the manner of settlement that the difficulty arises. Things have reached a state, however, in which it is taken as a hopeful sign if the nations even agree that they would like their differences settled. The statements at least provide a basis on which to try again to work out a solution.

A similarly hopeful attitude is seen in support by Britain, France and the United States for the new formula for settlement of the Berlin situation. Agreement by Russia is still awaited. Whether or not it is forthcoming, the problem will have been clarified to the extent that the West has signified its willingness to co-operate with the plan formed by the six-nation neutral group, including Canada, which was formed from the Security Council. Refusal by Russia in these circumstances would weaken her position.

WRONG APPROACH

THE OLD SAYING THAT THERE ARE

two things we may be sure of—death and taxes, was applied literally by a Tokyo blacksmith who received a notice from the tax collector that he was 6,500 yen in arrears. He killed his wife and six children, set fire to the house and took a fatal draught of poison. There must be many on this side of the Pacific Ocean who have felt the stirrings of a similar urge when contemplating the annual tax bill. Fortunately, the thought rarely finds expression, and a way is somehow found to pay for the many services which the citizen of today receives from the government. Personally, we prefer the pay cheque deduction method as being neat and tidy, and more or less painless. The Tokyo blacksmith's solution seems much too drastic.

Walter Lippmann

DIPLOMACY OF THE AIR LIFT

BY THE AIR LIFT to Berlin the United States Air Force has done something which was certainly not foreseen by the Russians, nor, it is fair to say, by the statesmen of the West. The principal effect of this remarkable and brilliant improvisation has been to postpone the necessity for a solution of the Berlin crisis. Without the air lift the choice would by this time have been between appeasement and war—the surrender of Berlin or an armed challenge to the ground blockade.

THE AIR LIFT has enabled the United States to remain in Berlin and to feed the Germans in the western sectors without attacking, except by diplomacy, the Soviet blockade. As a result, the Russians have been confronted with the choice of accepting the air lift or of firing the first shots in a world war. Thus far they, too, have preferred diplomacy—as they understand diplomacy.

The air lift has, therefore, succeeded in offsetting, sufficiently for the time being, the inherent strategic advantage which the Russians have because Berlin is deep inside their zone of military occupation. But the air lift is, nevertheless, only a means of postponing a showdown or a settlement. It is not, and it cannot be made, more than that. The air lift exerts no compulsion on the Russians to remove the ground blockade; it merely enables the western democracies to refuse to be coerced by the ground blockade.

THE AIR LIFT is not an instrument of decision but an instrument which provides time during which decisions can be made. Time is being bought by the air lift which, given the circumstances, has had to be bought. The circumstances could and, in the view of some, should not have been what they are. It was unwise to force the German issue this year. But it was forced. After that, time had to be bought. For no one was ready to deal with the German issue which had been forced.

THE MAIN REASON for a postponement of a showdown and of negotiations for a settlement are the United States election, the uncertain political condition of France, the primitive state of the Western Union and its defenses, and the lack of an agreed conception in the United States and among her partners as to what is to be the principle and the shape of a German peace treaty.

Though it would have been wiser to temporize with the German question until next spring, until the new administration was organized, until the Marshall Plan was taking effect, until the plans for Western Union were adopted and in effect, rather counsel prevailed and it was not done. The air lift has, however, been improvised. It has done what could have been done more cheaply and less dangerously by diplomacy—that is to say, it has enabled the statesmen to temporize with the German question.

IT IS EVIDENT that in one way or another the need to temporize will be there for some months to come. Even if a compromise is arranged in Paris which deals with the blockade, the currency, and a meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers, such a compromise now can be only an arrangement to postpone the serious business.

For the outgoing Truman administration cannot negotiate a German peace treaty, not even with the utmost in collaboration under the bipartisan understanding. General negotiations for a German peace treaty cannot be undertaken until the Dewey administration is firmly installed. For the negotiation of a peace treaty will require new decisions of high policy which are not now covered by the bipartisan understanding. There is some reason to think that this determining fact is understood abroad, not only in London and in Paris but also in Moscow and in Warsaw.

DOES THIS MEAN that if the mediator nations in Paris are unable to arrange a compromise, nothing useful can be done at the Council of Foreign Ministers? Not necessarily. During the interregnum this winter the council might accomplish much if it limits severely what it attempts to do.

It would be well, it seems to me, for the council to postpone discussion of the German peace treaty and to discuss instead the protocol of a new armistice agreement. Such a new agreement would deal with the zones of military occupation and the relaxation, if not the liquidation, of military government. A new agreement of this sort is needed for the period, inevitably a fairly long one, during which the peace treaty is being negotiated and before it could be put into effect.

May Its Light Never Fail

Passing Of An Industry

By RICHARD DIMBLEBY, in London Calling

CORNWALL has always been well known for the wealth of its minerals. Among the rock strata that seam the long, narrow Duchy are copper, tin, lead, zinc, iron and, rarer and more precious metals, too. As far as we know, tin has been produced and shipped out of Cornwall for 2,000 years, ever since the Phoenician traders called at the small ports or coves on the south-western extremity of Britain.

MINING BEGAN

The earliest of the tin-workers were not miners. They worked on the open cast, as many of our coal workers do today, snatching tin from the surface of the ground the quick and easy way.

About 500 years ago, when the surface tin was exhausted, the mining proper began, with the tin men digging into the ground of the hills and cliffs; 350 years ago, according to Hamilton Jenkins, one of the greatest living experts on Cornwall, these miners were already working 300 feet below ground, being lowered and brought up on a rope, and managing, without air or water pumping, to work for five hours a day underground.

This hard and slow production of tin continued until 250 years ago, when copper as well as tin was found in the Cornish mines. Money was invested, many more miners taken on, and the greatest of our engineers of the day, James Watt, was brought down from Birmingham to introduce a heavy steam-pump to keep the ever-encroaching water at bay. A Cornish engineer, Trevithick, later improved on Watt's design and produced the Cornish pump which is still used today.

When these machines had been installed, for crushing the tin-ore as well as pumping out the water, Cornish mining entered on its heyday. One by one, all over the narrow country, new mines were opening, new shafts sunk, with their slim, brick winding and pump-houses, and tall chimneys rising up all over the landscape, like huge, clenched hands, with the forefinger pointing to the sky.

By 100 years ago, three-quarters of the world's copper and half of its tin came from Cornwall, and those who had invested their money in the Cornish mines were making a fortune: not so the miners themselves.

FORGOTTEN MAN

It was a feature of the Victorian period in our history—and of the Industrial Revolution in particular—that everyone was thought of except the man who produced the goods. Cornish miners, sweating and slaving in the foul, hot air, far below ground, with inadequate safety precautions and surroundings as unhealthy as they could be, might earn, on an average, about £3 a month, spread over the year. He was not paid a regular wage, but received what the employers of the day called "tribute." This varied according to the tin-yielding capacity of the ore that he dug out and sent to the surface.

Hamilton Jenkins told me about one mine where, in those days, the unpumped water washing about the pit was so hot that the men were scalded by it, and the Fahrenheit temperature of the air was 115. In this stifling atmosphere, the men worked, stripped to the waist, for eight hours, and then climbed as much as 1,500 feet of ladders to reach the surface and walk five miles home through the cold night. They took their young children down into these mines with them to start work at the age of nine or ten.

PLENTY OF METAL

If it had not been for the discovery and exploitation of surface tin in the Malay States, the Cornish tin mines would be flourishing today, for there is still tin, copper, and most of the other metals in plenty under the granite rock of the Duchy. But in Malaya, the tin lies in seams on the earth's surface, just as it did in Cornwall several hundred years ago, and it is cheap and quick to work.

One by one, the ancient Cornish tin workings have closed. But do not think that the tin industry is dead in Cornwall: it is at a very low ebb, but there are those, and some of them expert, who believe that the easy supply of tin from Malaya will cease one day, and that Cornish tin will come back into its own.

The Ocean For An Airfield

By DOUGLAS LARSEN from Washington

WHEN the international situation gets particularly crucial the services start dusting off the idea for weapons which verge on the screwball. And some of these screwball ones suddenly become very practical. When the idea of an atomic bomb was proposed many important people labeled it just plain nutty.

FLOATING BASE

Anyway, the one they've pulled off the shelf now actually originated in the Sunday supplements about 20 years ago. Every one at least once has seen an "artist's conception" of a floating airport in the middle of the sea on which planes flying across the ocean could land and refuel. That's the one they're working on again with a "super secret" stamp on the details.

The whole idea of a floating sea base has come a long way, however, from the Sunday supplement version of it. In fact the floating sea base part of it has been discarded, if that makes sense.

At the start of World War II the U.S. Navy and Air Force spent plenty of money on the project before it was finally abandoned as impractical. But a lot of sound conclusions were reached on the subject. First, it was decided that any floating base would be too vulnerable to enemy subs and bombers and that it wouldn't be maneuverable enough to dodge attack. Then the thinking switched to the idea of calming the water over an area large enough for a seaplane to land. The idea was for the plane to taxi up to a conventional ship in the calm area and refuel.

Tests with oil soon showed the impracticability of calming the seas that way. Further experiments, however, revealed that the best way to calm the water in the open sea was to break the cadence of the waves. At this point the details of the progress of that research become highly secret. It is known that large square objects floating in regularly spaced rows will break up waves, however. That much was revealed before the idea was shelved.

MORE DETAILS

Now, however, several more details of a general plan to use the open ocean as an airplane base have come to light. The U.S. Navy has approached the problem by trying to improve the hulls of seaplanes. This has been extremely successful. Extensive tests with new hulls on flying boats in the Pacific have greatly increased their ability to stand rough weather. That increases the percentage of days out of a year planes can operate from an open sea base. It certainly increases the practicability of such a base, with perhaps some wave-dampening device.

It is possible that the tremendous power that jet propulsion gives to an airplane might change the whole picture of the usefulness of seaplanes or amphibious planes. The biggest bug in jet propulsion so far is the limited range it gives to a plane. A bomber, for instance, wouldn't need much more range than jet power gives it now if it could flash over a target, drop a bomb, land somewhere at sea and then be hauled aboard a ship with a crane. That would certainly be a less hazardous operation than the first bombing of Tokyo from the decks of a carrier.

A jet fighter able to land safely at sea would obviously be a very versatile weapon for both the Air Force and the Navy. It opens up many possibilities for radically new types of operations against an enemy.

A POSSIBILITY

Whether the wave-dampening idea is an integral part of the new thinking on the use of seaplanes isn't definitely known. Weird as it may sound, it's still a possibility. And the services have learned the lesson well that no possibility can be ruled out without careful consideration.

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press News Analyst
(For DeWitt Mackenzie)

A DESERT is one of the stakes, in fact a prize, in the Palestine conflict.

The Israeli government announced yesterday that its troops have taken ancient Beer-sheba in the heart of the Negev, a wasteland. Why fight for a wasteland?

Her spokesmen contend that she must have the Negev, not only for future expansion, but to achieve the Jewish dream of a modern state with an economy evenly balanced between agriculture and industry.

The Negev is a pretty poor area. It is barren, waterless, bleak, brown and unfriendly. It looks incredibly old, and if it ever had any value for humans, none is apparent now.

For this reason, it has never been mapped. Probably it has never been entirely explored.

Nevertheless, Israel claims it, and is expending blood and treasure to get it. These are the reasons:

The new state is already feeling population pressure. Immigration since the end of the war, and particularly within the last year, has brought the population mark to nearly 800,000.

THOUSANDS WAITING

Many thousands more are waiting in Europe to go into Palestine. The planning of the Jewish agency, before the end of the war, embraced about 1,000,000 people. Some 600,000 Jews were then living in Palestine.

Population is not the only factor. Industrial potentiality—and it is only a potentiality now—is equally important.

During the years of the British mandate, the Jews conducted extensive experiments, and with considerable success, in areas not greatly different from the Negev.

They were able to organize collective farms in other desert lands, and make them produce. They went into the weird land bordering on the Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea, prospecting for minerals and setting up chemical works.

SAME PROCESS

They propose to do the same thing now in the desert of Negev. They argue that a state of Israel based on agriculture alone cannot exist. It would have no coal, iron or oil. To import these commodities, even for light industry, would be beyond the resources of the country, they claim.

Whether the Negev holds any mineral or other resources is unknown, of course. But it is the best hope of Israel, and in fact the only one.

TAX COLLECTORS ALL

Ottawa Journal

The amount of work every business office must do for the government, and free, would astound those who are not familiar with it—the forms to be filled out, the payroll deductions, the intricacies of tax computations and adjustments. Every employer is a tax collector for the Treasury, working under very rigid regulations and subject to constant official supervision.

LOSING BATTLE

Halifax Herald

Many of those who have been able to increase their income to some extent during the past few years find that their position has not improved. They have avoided what would have been a still more difficult situation, but the increased income does not mean increased purchasing.

GROWING UP

Toronto Star

Were it not for the fact that Canada herself has vast iron ore resources, our continued dependence upon the United States for a substantial percentage of our steel needs would be quite understandable. It would be a simple case of necessity. As it is, however, it would seem to be high time Canada gave some consideration to supplying her own steel requirements.

Conservationists Try To Scare Wild Geese From Lake

CAIRO, Ill. (AP) — The battle for Horseshoe Lake between Canadian invaders and United States government forces is developing into a major fight.

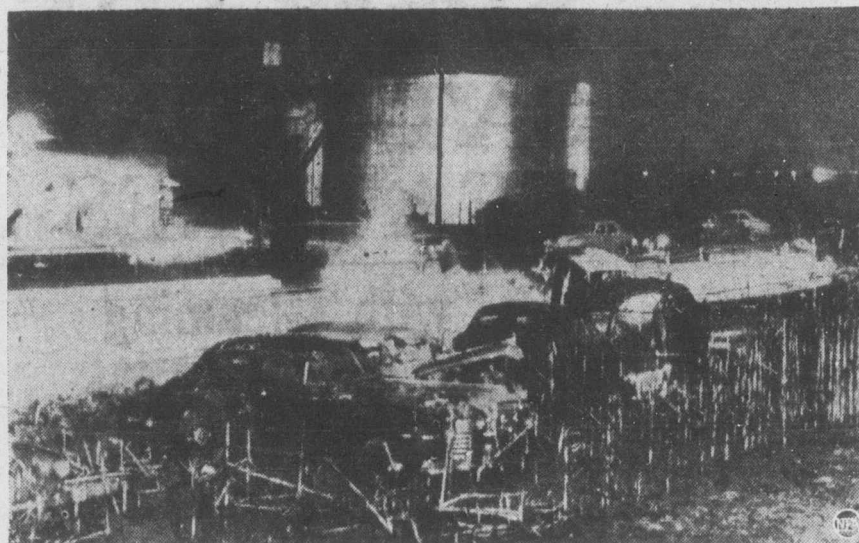

The U.S. government, represented by federal conservation forces aided by aerial bombers, grenade lobbers and assorted noise makers, is trying to stand off the onslaught of the Canadian geese.

As far back as records go the Canadian geese have made Horseshoe Lake their winter home. Until the price of corn reached present levels farmers did not object too much.

The government, after the "look-and-count" boys in the conservation department had found the Canadian goose population dwindling, ordered shooting closed at Horseshoe Lake. The first reaction of the invaders was retreat and reform. Those old ganders, leaders of the flock, are in absolute command and when they order the flock 'n, they go in.

Conservationist V. C. Conover said the bombs used are as harmless as firecrackers and would

The first phase of the battle flights come in they will be wilder than the early arrivals and that the scare treatment will work.

Pledge To Ban Crime In Name Of Research Planned For Doctors

WINNIPEG (CP)—An international pledge on medical ethics designed to prevent war crimes in the future like those perpetrated by Nazi doctors in the guise of medical research has been outlined here.

Dr. T. C. Routley, general secretary of the Canadian Medical Association, told the annual convention of the Manitoba Medical Association Thursday of the pledge formulated at Geneva this year by the newly organized World Medical Association.

A world organization of medical men can and should be a great force for peace, he said. Doctors have "a common denominator of interest to offer to all mankind."

The pledge, to be taken by medical students of 45 countries on graduation, states in part:

"I will maintain the utmost respect for human life from the time of conception; even under threat I will not use my medical knowledge contrary to the laws of humanity."

Dr. Routley said the Geneva meeting marked the first time an international pledge had been drawn up for members of the medical profession in every nation. This was done in complete harmony.

"This was a strong indication that if all mankind would fix its mind on unselfish service all wars would cease," he said.

GERMANS MUST SIGN

German doctors seeking admission to the W.M.A. would have to sign the pledge on medical ethics, he added.

Dr. Routley thought it unfortunate that "countries behind the so-called iron curtain" were not yet represented in the World Medical Association.

"However, these nations have been told that when they permit formation of medical associations within their state boundaries such associations will be welcome to membership in the international body."

"We are not absolving ourselves that the oath will bring about world peace," Dr. Routley said. "But we do believe it indicates a trend and that our statement of principles is also our statement of our belief in human peace and brotherhood."

Spy Probe Witness Killed By Fall

WASHINGTON (AP)—A witness in the Congressional spy probes was killed Wednesday in a five-floor fall down a circular stairwell at the Justice Department.

The victim was W. Marvin Smith, 53, department employee who had appeared before the House Committee on Un-American Activities in its investigation of Alger Hiss and Whittaker Chambers.

His testimony dealt with disposition of an automobile once owned by Hiss.

U.B.C. Scholarship Awards Announced

VANCOUVER (CP)—Charles Delaney Pearce, Vancouver has been awarded the $500 B.C. Telephone Co. Ltd. scholarship at the University of British Columbia, it was announced Thursday.

The Dr. F. J. Nicholson $500 scholarship for chemistry went to Emmanuel J. Cruchley, Vancouver, and the G. H. Woods & Co. Ltd. medical scholarship of $500 to Cecil Leonard Jenkins.

The three are the highest valued scholarships in a list of student prizes and scholarships amounting to $7,000 announced by the U.B.C.

Masters' and bachelor degrees will be conferred on nearly 400 students at the fall congregation next week.

Hop Dealer Hopped

PEIPING (AP)—Next time government black market prosecutors will move in secret.

They made no bones about their intention to arrest a P-51 fighter pilot for black marketing at Peiping's south field. They headed out to the field to arrest the flier.

But a friend telephoned the pilot, who jumped into his fighter plane and headed for Communist headquarters in Hopei Province.

Loss to the government—one pilot and one expensive plane.

Deadline Extended

The federal works department today announced that the deadline for receipt of tenders for the new float wharf approaches and breakwater repairs at the William Head quarantine station had been extended to Oct. 27.

World's Big Centres Celebrate First Of 'United Nations Weeks'

NEW YORK (CP)—Lunchtime crowds milled in Rockefeller Centre.

The voice of Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton boomed from loudspeakers around the sunlit square. The address was recorded and sent from Paris.

McNaughton, Canada's permanent delegate to the United Nations Security Council, reviewed the Dominion's stand on international atomic control. Canada would continue to seek Russian agreement to the majority proposals of the Atomic Energy Commission, he said.

There was no applause. But one listener remarked with obvious surprise: "Sounds just like an American, don't he?"

This was part of New York's advance celebration of the third birthday of the United Nations Charter. Next Sunday, around the world there will be similar gatherings to commemorate ratification of the document.

The United Nations Charter came into effect Oct. 24, 1945.

There was not much of a birthday party the first two years. This year the United Nations' General Assembly asked for world-wide recognition. There will be celebrations in all the 58 member countries and in some countries which are not members.

PLANS CO-ORDINATED

Dr. Arne Bjornberg is acting at United Nations' headquarters at nearby Lake Success, N.Y., as co-ordinating officer of the celebrations. He has received word that a national holiday has been declared in China to observe the birthday; that the Y.M.C.A. in Burma's capital, Rangoon, will hold a commemoration meeting. On the Ambassador Bridge between Windsor, Ont., and Detroit, the mayors of the respective cities will meet to commemorate the birthday.

Raced Through Wall Of Flame To Rescue 2 Unconscious Men

MARKHAM, Ont. (CP)—Racing through a wall of flame, Vernon Tanner, Markham theatre manager, pulled two unconscious men from the M. A. Hendry toy factory here moments before two explosions rocked the two-story building.

Five York County fire brigades battled almost seven hours before bringing the blaze under control early Thursday. Damage was estimated at more than $100,000.

Economists Foresee 6 Years' Good Times

WASHINGTON (AP)—Good times for the next six years are foreseen by United States agriculture department economists.

Even if a moderate recession should come, they regard living standards as sure to remain far above the 1935-39 prewar level.

The economists have set forth their views in an unofficial report prepared for field workers.

This document—based on the assumption of a relatively stable peace—says that full employment during some and perhaps all years between now and 1955 is a distinct possibility, notwithstanding the likelihood of additional postwar adjustments.

"If the adjustment is relatively mild, centring in prices with little interruption to production, the chances for an extended period of full employment are good," said the report.

Many Pieces Shown At Hand Weavers' Guild Display

Visitors to the Douglas Room at the Hudson Bay today and Saturday will see a variety of hand-woven articles on display by the Victoria Hand Weavers' Guild.

The exhibit, convened by Mrs. E. Cook, vice-president, and Miss Mollie Turner, is composed mostly of work of members of the Victoria Guild, and also features a table with work from other countries.

Especially interesting is the display of wools and cottons, hand-dyed from vegetable and other natural dyes.

Among the articles on display are a beautiful old cashmere shawl from India, a wide selection of handbags, afghans, luncheon and tray cloths, blankets and yardage goods.

A display interesting to weavers is that of hand-woven silk pictures, which contain 250 threads both of warp and weft, to the inch and are woven with two shuttles.

Examples of bound weaving, overshot, twill and tapestry weaving are all on display as well as beautiful exhibits of "rose path" pattern seen on a colorful apron, and "honeyuckle" and "sunrise on the mountain" patterns used in tray and luncheon cloths.

A demonstration of spinning is given by Mrs. K. Mather, showing the carding of sheep's wool, and its transformation into twine.

A wide selection of Indian arts and crafts may be seen, brightly beaded and cleverly worked bracelets and necklaces, silver bangles featuring skilled workmanship, intricately patterned baskets and many other articles. Assisting with arrangements are committee members Mrs. F. Clark, Miss E. Taylor and Mrs. E. Hammond.

Interest in hand-weaving in Victoria is rapidly increasing and at every meeting of the guild new members are welcomed. Also, they state, it provides new interests for handicapped persons.

Successful Tea

A successful tea was held last Wednesday, at the home of Mrs. K. A. McLeod, 2347 Oak Bay Avenue, under the auspices of the S.O.S. Club, Queen City Chapter, No. 5, Order of Eastern Star. Mrs. R. Dailly and Mrs. M. Flucke were general conveners. Presiding at the head table were Mrs. M. Leheim and Mrs. M. McNaught. A musical program included vocal solos by Mrs. Alan Paver accompanied by Mrs. J. Hopkins; Mrs. L. Bishop accompanied by Mrs. B. C. Pettigall; Mrs. Don Jacobs accompanied by Edward Vidal, who also played several piano selections during the afternoon.

Y.P. Societies

St. Mary's—Opening prayers were led by Padre Rapson, at the St. Mary's Anglican Young People's meeting in the parish hall. During business, plans were discussed for the 21st anniversary banquet and dance to be held Nov. 15. Arrangements were made to send Christmas parcels to England for an adopted family and to former branch members. Church calendars for 1949 were distributed among members. It was decided to hold a card party in the hall at the end of November. Delegates to the recent Provincial A.Y.P.A. Conference in Vancouver, read their reports. Next week members will meet in the hall at 7.30 to discuss business, and will leave at 8 for Huntley's Radio Lounge for a music appreciation program.

Cheese will dry out if you do not take care. Cut off only as much cheese as you need at one time. Keep the rest tightly wrapped in paper or clean cloth and in a cool place. Use the cheese before it has a chance to dry out.

Recreational Plan For Family Units

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Welfare Council is taking steps to strengthen those family ties.

E. R. McEwen, secretary of the recreation division, Canadian Welfare Council, has announced that an institute on family recreation will be held in Montreal next March. It is designed to counteract the tendency of community recreation programs to pull families apart.

By working out designs for recreation of families as units, and promoting these through community bodies and parents, the section hopes to increase recreation of a sort that will help weld families more closely together.

To Wear White 'Undies'

LACKLAND AIR FORCE BASE, San Antonio, Tex. (AP)—There's a mild revolution in the affairs of the first 100 women enrolled at the opening session of the United States Air Force Training School here.

They're being issued white undies, will be permitted to choose their own hair-do and buy their own girdles.

Solemnly the United States Air Force announced today that "women's air force underclothing is no longer the gruesome olive drab of wartime manufacture."

Instead it is white with a dainty border. That is a male press relation officer's description of these items.

Well-Known Woman To Head English Development Body

LONDON (CP)—A mother who still found time to become one of Britain's most prominent social workers, succeeds next month to the important chairmanship of the Development Commission.

She is the 38-year-old Countess of Albemarle, a ceaseless rural welfare worker who holds the chairmanship of the 400,000-member National Federation of Women's Institutes and became the first woman member of the Development Commission last July.

No one was more surprised than she when the government announced: Lady Albemarle would succeed 79-year-old Earl of Shaftesbury to the chairmanship of the body which advances funds for the development of agriculture, rural industries, reclamation and the like. It handles hundreds of thousands of pounds a year.

She said she would take the job with the approval of her husband, and declared it was a wonderful opportunity — "like being given your head on your own pet hobby."

Social work, especially rural welfare work, has for years been the hobby of this blue-eyed, fair-haired daughter of an old Scottish family. She has striven to prove that women have equal place with men in the fight for rural welfare and prosperity.

WILL CORRELATE EFFORTS

Chairmanship of both the N.F.W.I. and the Development Commission will enable her to correlate the efforts of the two organizations.

The Countess believes that the problem of production is much more bound up with the question of rural welfare than has been admitted.

"Direction on policy can come from the top, but ideas must first come from below," she says.

She was previously Diana Cecily Grove, daughter of the late Major J. A. Grove. Her great-grandfather, Dr. Norman Macleod was a Scottish clergyman and Chaplain to Queen Victoria. Marrying the ninth Earl — at that time Viscount Bury — she became at 21 — the stepmother of three boys and two girls, the eldest one year younger than herself. Her own daughter now is 16.

Lord and Lady Albemarle spend most of their time in their country seat in Norfolk, Quidenham Hall.

The family history dates back to 1698 when Arnold Joost Van Keppel came over from Holland with the Prince of Orange. The first Viscount Keppel built Quidenham Hall out of the proceeds of a naval expedition against Cuba and Havana in 1762.

Candy Stall — A sum of $20 was made from sale of candy, it was announced at the regular meeting of Patricia Junior Women's Auxiliary, Centennial United Church, held at the home of Mrs. L. Stevenson, 969 Westling Road. Mrs. R. Pearce presided and it was decided that the auxiliary will present two plays in December and a rummage sale and silver tea, date to be announced. Following business, afternoon tea was served by Mrs. Pearce, Mrs. J. Swetnam and Mrs. L. Stevenson. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. F. Potts, 3088 Admirals Road, on Nov. 10.

Auxiliary Re-elects Miss Hill President

Members of the Children's Ward Auxiliary of Royal Jubilee Hospital in annual meeting this week re-elected Miss Alma Hill president for the coming year.

Other officers are Miss Lillian Smethurst, vice-president; Miss Irene Bannerman, secretary, and Miss Marjorie Tait, treasurer. Miss L. Woodrow, R.N., was named honorary president.

Conveners named were Mrs. M. Gunning, refreshments and telephone; Miss Bannerman and Miss C. Couves, buying; Mesdames F. W. Foster, I. Stewart and Miss M. Siddall, executive committee.

Secretary's report showed the auxiliary had purchased for the ward during the year a portable lamp, scales and rod, Mayo table, electric fruit juicer, stainless steel equipment and complete furnishings for the interviewing room for the new children's ward. In addition, nine dressing gowns, one dozen pairs of slippers and four screen covers were supplied.

Visits were made to the ward each month and decorations were placed at Christmas with a tree and gifts.

During the last year moneys were raised through a rummage sale, annual tea and tag day.

Treasurer's report showed total receipts as $1,791.70.

Dr. Murray Anderson, guest speaker, gave an interesting talk on the children's ward.

Miss Tait was named convener of a home cooking stall to be held in the David Spencer Ltd. basement on Oct. 30.

Federal Aid For Road Building Urged At Chamber Of Commerce

WINNIPEG (CP)—Highways Minister Erick Willis of Manitoba thinks Canada should get busy at completing its Trans-Canada Highway, that the federal government should help pay for it up to 50 per cent, and that there is a plan already laid out which should be applied here.

The plan is the one which the United States has used since 1916 in creating its highway network.

There, said Mr. Willis Thursday in an address to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, the Federal Public Roads Administration works on a non-political commission basis and has successfully administered the billions of dollars contributed to U.S. highways by the federal government in the last 32 years.

"They have a smooth, fool-proof system of contributing 50 per cent of the cost of important trunk highways, and this cost has never at any time exceeded

2 per cent of the federal government's expenditures.

"The system is one of close co-operation with the state highway departments, and in general the federal government has one engineer in each state."

CLOSE INSPECTION

It does not build any highways, but by inspection makes sure the different states build to a uniform standard.

Contributions are based on a formula which includes ratio of population, mileage of rural roads, and area. All grants must be matched dollar for dollar by the states.

"These provisions could be used to provide compensation or alternate road-building activities for such provinces as the Maritimes and Quebec, which have already built practically all of the Trans-Canada Highway within their own boundaries."

B.C. Salmon Pack 1,186,677 Cases

The chief supervisor of fisheries today reported B.C.'s salmon pack to date this season at 1,186,677 48-pound cases.

The pack is behind those of every year since 1945 but compares favorably with the 1,076,382 cases packed in the corresponding cycle year of 1944.

More chums have been canned than any other species, the total to date this season being 383,141 cases. Pinks canned to date this year totaled 322,438 cases while sockeye have totaled 259,847 cases. Coho canned to date total 180,086 cases.

Proud Of War Work Lecturer Tells Jury In Nanaimo

NANAIMO (CP) — Anti-Communist lecturer Dr. Mladen Zorkin testified in the Assize Court here Thursday. He had served Yugoslavia and its wartime Allied control in a manner of which "any patriot might be proud."

Testimony was made at the trial of Mirko Vitcovich, Nanaimo coal miner who charged in a recent article that Zorkin was both "traitor and quisling" to Yugoslavia during the war.

Zorkin claimed he was wounded twice while fighting both Germans and Communists in his strife-torn country. He said he mobilized 112 men, after escaping from a German concentration camp, and joined forces with Tito's Communists to fight the Nazi invasion of the hinterland. He said he was invalided to Bari, in southern Italy, and there joined the Allied control. He said he was sent to the Yugoslav Embassy in London, but resigned when the Communist Tito organization was recognized, and came to Canada.

Parishoner's Hear Of Bishop's Trip

More than 100 parish members were present at the annual dinner of St. Mary's Men's Guild Thursday night to hear Bishop Harold E. Sexton describe events on his recent visit to England to attend the Lambeth Conference.

The bishop pointed out the need for continuing to send parcels of food to Britain. There is ample food, in his opinion, but Bishop Sexton states it lacks variety, particularly as far as meat is concerned.

He told of social activities connected with the conference, including the reception of the bishops by the King and Queen at Buckingham Palace, the Prime Minister's garden party at No. 10 Downing Street, and the Lord Mayor's reception at Mansion.

Bishop Sexton was introduced by Arthur Crease, chancellor of the diocese. Other speakers were R. A. B. Wootton, reeve of Oak Bay, and Archbishop A. E. de L. Nunn. Charles Booth, president of the men's guild, was chairman.

Miss Phyllis Corbett and Dudley Wickert entertained with songs, and Mrs. Ernest Downs presented sketches.

Rochon, Macken In Doubles Triumph

MEXICO CITY (CP)—Henri Rochon and Brendan Macken, Canada's top tennis stars, advanced to the third round of the men's doubles in the Pan-American tournament here by gaining a hard-earned victory over Rafael Ortega and Alberto Daniel of Mexico.

The Montrealers triumphed in four sets, 1-6, 6-1, 6-3, 10-8.

Trial of James C. Bouch on a charge of dangerous driving on Sept. 21 opened in city police court Thursday and was remanded to Monday to hear a further witness. James D. Watt, 601 Gorge Road, said he saw the car was not being driven very well and was "going all over the road." Witness said he followed the car from Gorge to Cook and Grant Streets, where it struck a telephone pole, which was not damaged.

Odds On Speciality Further Shortened

LONDON (AP)—Odds on Speciality, the favorite to win the Cambridge Stakes Wednesday, shortened to 11 to 2 today.

At the last call-over Monday, the three-year-old bay colt was 6 to 1. The field for the nine-furlong handicap, at Newmarket now stands at 36 entries.

A major factor in the shortening of Speciality's price was the fact he is coupled with his stablemate, Woodburn, winner of last week's Cesarewitch, in the autumn betting double.

Royal Tara, assigned the top weight of 126 pounds, was quoted at 21 to 1. Explorer, the second favorite, eased to 8 to 1 from 15 to 2.

Larger Suite Soon For St. Laurents

OTTAWA (CP)—The St. Laurents must be lucky, that's all. They have found an apartment in the capital.

The Prime Minister-designate and his wife soon will move into a larger suite in the centre town Roxborough Apartments, where they have been living.

Their present quarters do not include kitchen facilities and the management of the apartment building is preparing a larger suite. A lease, covering one year's occupancy, already has been signed.

The Red Cross would like to get in touch with the following people believed to be living in or near Victoria: Kurt Schewe, A. K. F. Kloppenburg, Anthony Rudnicki, Rudolf Adamschek and sons, Ernest, Max and Ruli. Anyone knowing the present whereabouts of any of these people is requested to contact the local Red Cross Headquarters, 1046 Fort Street, telephone B 3159.

Jimmy Stewart Plays In Baseball Picture

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jimmy Stewart signed Thursday, M-G-M Studio announced, to play the title role in "The Monty Stratton Story." Stratton, former Chicago White Sox pitcher who lost a leg in a Texas hunting accident 10 years ago, was out coaching Stewart in the role.

The Texan, leading White Sox pitcher in his last season in the majors, will be technical adviser on the picture, production of which is to start next week. After his accident, Stratton was fitted with an artificial leg, acted as coach with the White Sox for two seasons and later played in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Play Given Premiere In London, Ont.

Madeleine Carroll, English stage and screen star, now is being seen in the leading role in "Goodbye, My Fancy." LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The world premiere of "Goodbye, My Fancy," starring Madeleine Carroll, will be given here.

roll in her first stage role on this continent played Thursday night before an enthusiastic first-night audience filling the Grand Theatre here.

In the comedy-drama, Miss Carroll returns as a congresswoman to her alma mater to fall in love again with a professor who has risen to college president.

Conrad Nagel as the president and Sam Wanamaker as the "other man" gave good supporting performances. Wanamaker also is the play's director.

The author is Fay Kanin, whose husband, Michael, is co-producer. The play ran nearly three hours and had good and sometimes salty dialogue, but appeared draggy in spots.

Shirley Booth and Bethel Leslie were excellent in featured roles.

"Goodbye, My Fancy" will run two more nights here before moving to Broadway.

Government Appeals To Industry To Help Solve Steel Shortage

By HAROLD MORRISON
OTTAWA (CP)—The government has appealed to the Canadian steel industry to help solve Canada's critical shortage of steel.

This was confirmed today by an authoritative source who added that Trade Minister Howe likely will receive submissions in two weeks from at least four big steel companies on ways to meet the shortage.

The solution, said a government source, is in construction of at least another blast furnace with 1,000-tons-a-month pouring capacity.

"The problem is not in a lack of iron ore. We've plenty of ore," he said. "We just haven't got enough pouring capacity."

Meanwhile, the government was planning no further steel controls such as the one announced by Mr. Howe Thursday.

"We'll wait and see what the industry can offer," the source said. Mr. Howe's announcement said that importers of U.S.-made structural steel will require permits on all U.S. shipments. The control by permit will start next Monday.

DEFENCE NEEDS

Mr. Howe agreed to a restricted supply from the United States because of U.S. plans to rebuild her defences. It brings down Canada's import from U.S. plants from 1,000,000 to about 800,000 tons a year.

Defence projects in Canada would not suffer because of the shortage, he said.

In civilian industry steel priority would be given hydro plant construction, rolling stock and box cars for railways, steel for the shipbuilding industry, for Canadian agricultural imple-

J. Lindsay was elected the new rear commodore; Humphrey Golby, fleet captain; E. L. Liersch, staff captain; Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns, fleet chaplain, and Dr. R. Scott-Moncrieff, fleet surgeon.

Mr. Wright, H. A. Wallace, C. J. Harrington, Logan Mayhew, Harry Gladwell, J. M. Green, A. Evans and Peter Townshend were appointed members of the new managing committee.

No Plan To Ration Tires Says Howe

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Howe Thursday night spiced rumors automobile tire rationing is being considered by the government. "There's no truth to that," he said. "Canada has plenty of rubber and plenty of automobile tires. We're not making plans for rationing."

United Engages City; Secures Swiss Star

Victoria United will take the field tomorrow for its Coast League soccer match against Vancouver City at Athletic Park with a revamped lineup. Manager Roy Barnes announced today he plans to move Joe Robbins into the centre-forward position with Al Boyd to take over Robbins' berth at left fullback. Kickoff is scheduled for 2.15.

Barnes stated the latest move was an effort to provide the United with additional scoring punch, something the club had lacked in its games to date.

There was some good news in the United camp today. The club has secured the services of Paul Withum, former member of Swiss touring elevens. Withum, who has seen action with a Swiss team which played against Manchester City and Chelsea in England, will be a spectator at tomorrow's match and turn out for his first practice Tuesday night. Arriving in Canada four months ago Withum spent the summer months at Lake Louise being employed as a chef with the C.F.R.

Withum can play either goal or centre-forward. With the United badly in need of a pivot player it is possible he may prove the person to fill that spot.

DICK BELL PLAYS

Remainder of the United lineup for tomorrow's match will see Dick Bell, former professional with West Ham in the English League second division, holding down the inside left berth with Noel Morgan on the wing. Opposite side of the line will have Gordie Bell inside and Andy Anderson outside. On the half line will be Syd Robbins at centre with Gordie Creed and Red McMillan as wing halves.

Partnering Boyd on the back line will be Chick Newman. Joe Travis will be between the up-rights. Available for relief duty will be Bill Hope, Ab Travis, I. Sage, Cliff Robbins, Dave Huggins and Murray Speller.

Vancouver City will present a line-up that includes many players familiar to local fans. Veteran Freddie Whittaker will perform at centre-forward. Dave Moreton and Denny Rogers will look after the right side of the line with young John Halley, who has been attracting so much attention on the mainland, and Teddy Crooks on the left flank.

The visitors' half line will be Joe Jordan, John Connell and Bob Hunter. In the fullback spots will be Alex McKay and Dick Kenning. Ian McKay will handle the goal-tending chores for the mainlanders. Alan Sawyer,

Fifth Regiment Rifle Winners Receive Prizes

At the semi-annual meeting of the Fifth Regiment Rifle Association held in the Armories, Wednesday night, the presentation of prizes was made to members of the regiment by Maj. R. W. Phipps.

Maj. Phipps, acting in the place of Commanding Officer Lt.-Col. G. F. Paulin, commented on the success of the association during the past year. Members of the B.C. regiment captured seven trophies, and three of these, the Victoria Rifles, the Aylmer Guard and the Sen. J. A. McDonald Trophy were won at the Dominion championship matches at Ottawa, and were brought to the province for the first time.

Special mention was made of WO2 J. A. Young, who brought signal honors to the regiment by winning a position on the 18-man Canadian squad which will compete in the famous Bisley meet next summer against squads from all parts of the British Empire.

SPECIAL AWARDS

Young, Const. J. Gibault, Second Lieut. Arthur Sherwin, Lt.-Cmdr. J. E. Hitchings, V. G. Valleau and Capt. L. R. J. Palmer won special class silver spoons for summer competitions fired over the various home ranges across Canada. First class spoons went to Sgt. G. S. Carr and P/Sgt. J. R. Sullivan.

Special trophy awarded to the high man on each team was won by Young.

A combined pistol and small bore rifle match, followed by a social will open the winter indoor rifle and pistol season Wednesday, starting at 7.30.

PITTSBURGH — Al Gualteri, 136, Washington, Pa., outpointed Juste Fontaine, 137, Pittsburgh, 10.

Eric Camp and T. Johnson are available for relief.

Goalie Turk Broda Honored

Winner of the Vezina Trophy last season as the No. 1 goalie in the National Hockey League, Toronto's Turk Broda is seen accepting a silver tray from league president Clarence Campbell in the ceremonies which preceded this season's opening game at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Yankee Players Responsible For Bucky Harris Losing His Post

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—A baseball manager gets it going and coming, as Bucky Harris, the popular ex-pilot of the New York Yankees has discovered.

Bucky was an easy-going man with his players. He didn't hound them about their after-dark habits, and he got some amazing results—a pennant in '47 and a tight third the past season.

When he was let out a while back, the natural assumption was that someone in the front office had knifed Bucky. The most popular candidate, and the one who felt the sharp edge of the reporters' typewriters, was president Dan Topping.

True, Topping was the man who gave Harris the bad news. But the ones who gave Topping no alternative were a couple of the Yankees' most prominent stars. They told him they preferred not to play under a man who did not make their teammates jump through the hoop!

SANTA CLAUS BOOKIE

Francis Albertanti, the fabulous little press agent who has taken over the drum-beating for the 20th Century Club, is a renowned foe of the mutual machines.

He always liked to give his money to a good, reliable bookmaker, and he has never lost an opportunity to say a bad word for the iron men.

"We were out at Santa Anita," he recalls, "and here this old woman comes walking by. She looked awful."

"There, I told my friends, 'is what the machines have done. They've brought women out to the tracks. You don't see women like that when they had to step up to a bookmaker!'"

"So, just to prove my point, we watched her," Francis continued. "She walked up to the $50 window and bought a stack of tickets that would have choked the horse she bet on."

"He came in, too—something like 6 to 1. We didn't have him."

West-Oak Bay Meet Tomorrow On New Grounds

A new playing field will be in use for the first time tomorrow when Oak Bay and West-Oak Bay meet in a senior league soccer match at Windsor Park. The new pitch is situated between the present cricket field and the lower rugby field, and will be a valuable addition to the senior soccer loop.

Oak Bay will be minus the services of left-winger Al Thompson, injured in last week's game, but are seeking to replace him with Frank Grealy, Oak Bay's intermediate stalwart. West-Oak, on the other hand, will be at full strength for the tussle, and will use the same lineup that drew with Canadian Legion last Sunday. Game time is 2.30.

Legionnaires have strengthened their squad and will be much stronger for Sunday's match with Esquimalt at Bullen Park. Charlie Sadler will be in goal, with Hank Slater, Glen Robbins and Phil Andrejkev listed as fullbacks. Alex McCormick, Welton, Oliver and Mangall will see action on the half line, while MacDonald, Christianson, Duncan, Fred Merriman, Wyllie and George Pickup round out the complete attacking unit. Bob Ellis is the spare goalie, and veteran George Kulai may see action if needed.

Dockyarders have added Jimmy Davidson to their lineup, and will be out for their third victory in as many games to consolidate their top-place position.

Esquimalt, Blacks Win Grass Hockey

Edging Mount Douglas High, 1 to 0, Victoria Blacks scored their third straight victory in the interhigh girls' grass hockey league yesterday. Donald Clements notched the only tally of the game in the last four minutes of play.

Esquimalt gained a second-place tie with Oak Bay by nipping the latter, 2 to 1, in a game at the Cranmore Street grounds. Teams played a scoreless first half. After Margaret Burden gave winners a 1 to 0 lead, Louise Slater came back to notch the count, but Josie Shaw counted the winner shortly before the whistle.

In the third game, Mount View and Vic High Girls played to a scoreless draw in an even match in which both squads missed good scoring opportunities.

Jack Bland Winner In Rotary Club Golf

In the annual tournament of the Victoria Rotary Club, at the Victoria Golf Club Wednesday, Jack Bland won the feature cup for turning in the low medal score. Bill Plaunt finished runner-up.

Esquimalt High Notches Third Win To Lead Cage Loop

Esquimalt High defeated Mount View, 3 to 1, in a cage football match yesterday. Esquimalt's record now stands at 3 wins and 1 loss.

Bill Reid's Esquimalt entry in the interhigh junior basketball loop scored its third straight victory yesterday to strengthen its top position in the standings. A late drive in the fourth quarter gave Esquimalt a handy 22 to 17 decision over Central Junior High.

Winners held a 12 to 8 lead at the mid-way mark, but Central succeeded in tying the game, 14 to 14 in the third quarter. A quick basket put losers ahead, but the dockyarders came through with the payoff baskets late in the finale.

In the only other game played yesterday, Mount View defeated Oak Bay, 25 to 15. Winners held a 15 to 11 edge at the breather, and limited Bays to two field goals in the second half. Jerry Sager of Saanichites topped the scorers with eight points, while Nelson Crisp led Bays with seven.

Teams and scores follow: Esquimalt—Beitrand 4, Rex, Pulmer, Hunter 4, Saunders 6, Adams 4, Jackson 4, Laidlaw. Central—Donahue, Bray, Mills, Skillings, Ready 4, Davies 4, Hepburn 2, Hampton 4, Wynn, Lou Fox 2, Delman. Mount View—Ferland 4, Windie 7, Sager 8, Cunningham 2, W. Cunningham, Stonier, Catterall, Path 4, Gibbald, Sigler. Oak Bay—Burley, Crisp 7, Shaw 5, Priestley, Smith, Veltch 4, Williams, Barnes 2, Francis.

Intermediate Soccer

Victoria Golds of the intermediate soccer loop will be gunning for their third straight victory when they tackle Saanich Indians in a match at lower Beacon Hill Park tomorrow.

In the other game, the second-place Douglas Tire eleven will meet Eagles in a game at Hampton Park. Both games start at 2.30.

PHILADELPHIA—Willie Beltram, 136½, New York, outpointed Calvin Smith, 134½, Philadelphia, 8.

Canadiens' New Line Flashes Scoring Power Against Leafs

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

FOR THE BENEFIT of followers of many lines of sport here's a weekly grab bag. Note where Dolph Camilli has decided against buying an interest in the champion Spokane ball club of the Western International League. The former major league first baseman, who finished the past season as Spokane manager, and was mainly responsible for the club's great late-season drive to the pennant, was reported ready to purchase Buddy Ryan's interest in the Indians.

BUCK YEO, a Victoria native, who gained considerable prestige in these parts some years ago as a referee, made some interesting nominations during a recent talk in Vancouver. The greatest all-round basketball player that Yeo ever saw in action is none other than Norm Baker. However, right up close to Norm he rates Chuck Chapman as the finest guard ever produced in these parts and Doug Fraser of the 1929 New Westminster Adanacs. In his opinion Fraser was the finest foot general.

IN RATING the greatest cage teams Yeo selects the Victoria Dominos of 1933 and the Adanacs of '29. That Dominos club included those two great athletes Murray and Lynn Patrick and it marked their final fling at amateur sport, for shortly after that series they moved into professional hockey.

TURNING TO the hockey front I notice where Frankie Boucher, manager of the New York Rangers, has come up with a pair of all-star National Hockey League squads. He picks a line-up of stars that cut up the ice lanes from 1927 to 1937 and then goes on to give his choice of the top six men since 1937 up until the present season.

STARTING BACK IN 1927 Boucher picks the late Charlie Gardiner as his goal-keeper. For the defence jobs on his old-time "dream team" Boucher nominates Ching Johnson and Eddie Shore. Boucher then went all out in naming the great Howie Morenz as his all-star centre. Frankie then put the finger on Bill Cook for right wing and to little Aurel Joliet went the left wing post. For the goaltending job on his team of present-day stars Boucher named Chuck Rayner. For defence he picked Dit Clapper and Jack Stewart. Unable to name one centre, Boucher gave the position to both Milt Schmidt and Max Bentley. Doug Bentley took the left wing berth and Maurice Richard the right flank.

Bays Tackle College With Bolstered Club

A first-class rugger match is carded at Macdonald Park tomorrow, when J.B.A.A. meet the powerful young Victoria College Vikings in a first division tussle, at 2.30.

Colleagues will go into the fray as favorites due to the result of the first two games when Canadian Scottish whipped the Bays, and College trounced Scots 11 to 0. However, two players will be missing from their ranks due to injuries.

Scott Kerr, playing coach, will miss the tilt due to a back injury and Art Bridge of the three line is likely out for the season due to a leg injury suffered in the opening minutes of last week's game.

Manager Bob Wallace announced the College line-up as follows: Dave Bryn-Jones, fullback; Fred Choat, John Campbell, wings; Roger Ross, Stuart Wismer, three; Gerry Main, stand-off; Ken Hurn, scrum half; Bob Dunlop, tall-up; Des O'Halloran, Reg Loff, breaks; Ron Alexander, Macgregor Macintosh, Pete Patterson, front row; John Murray, Ken Yeomans,

As holders of the Stanley Cup, Toronto Maple Leafs are hockey champions of the world. The world, it appears, doesn't include the Montreal Canadiens.

Leafs won only one game—on Christmas night—there last year. They ran into the same problem last night and fell 5 to 0 before Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League's only scheduled game.

The two points shot the Habits into first place, one point ahead of Detroit Red Wings and Boston Bruins, tied in second spot.

Annual Cricket Meeting Tonight

Annual meeting of the Victoria and District Cricket Association will be held at the Y.W.C.A. tonight at 7.30.

Election of officers for next year will take place, and all players and club secretaries are asked to be present. Refreshments will be served by members of the ex-R.A.F. Club following the meeting.

Saskatoon Hockey Club In Shake-up; Kirk Out As Coach

SASKATOON (CP)—Saskatoon Quakers today have a new manager-coach following a drastic shake-up last night designed to improve the present plight of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League tail-enders. The executive first requested the resignation of coach Bobby Kirk. This was followed by resignation of manager Bert Scharf.

President R. M. Cantlon then announced that Bill Hunter, former owner-manager-coach of Regina Caps, had been named manager-coach of the Saskatoon club. Hunter took over from Kirk when Quakers went on the ice for a practice session late yesterday.

Following his appointment Hunter said: "I think I can have a few key players here within the near future. It is terrifically late to start hunting hockey players but there are one or two scattered through the west who have expressed willingness to play for me anytime I want them and there seems no better time than now."

TOUGH JOB

"I think I am stepping into one of the toughest hockey jobs in Canada," Hunter added, "but I'll put forth every effort to give Saskatoon a team worthy of being in competition with other clubs in the league."

Quakers have lost all five games played so far this season, scoring 10 goals and allowing 36 against them. Worst defeat came from Edmonton Flyers, who set Saskatoon back 14 to 3 last Monday.

Scoring Leaders In Major Hockey

Billy Reay and Elmer Lach of Montreal Canadiens moved into a second-place tie in the scoring race last night to close in on Boston's Ed Sandford who still heads the list with six points. Reay netted a goal and two assists while Lach notched his third marker of the season. Each has a total of five points.

Leaders follow:

	G.	A.	Pts.
Sandford, Boston	3	3	6
Lach, Montreal	2	3	5
Reay, Montreal	2	3	5
D. Bentley, Chicago	1	3	4
McNab, Detroit	2	2	4
Carveth, Montreal	2	2	4
Dussault, Montreal	3	1	4

WOMEN'S GOLF

Mrs. V. Painter won A class honors in the monthly par point competition at the Colwood Club, with 40 points. Mrs. Harry Yeaton took B class with 37 points.

DAVE MCCRERY EXPERT GUNSMITH

ESTIMATES GIVEN ON ALL TYPES OF GUN WORK NOW WITH ROBINSON'S 1307 BROAD ST. E 6212

It was the second defeat for the Leafs in two games this year. Bill Durnan blocked only 13 shots for his first shutout of the season.

Dick Irvin's second line ran away with the scoring honors. Each of them—Norm Dussault, Billy Reay and Joe Carveth—

	W.	L.	D.	F.	A.	Pts.
Canadiens	2	0	1	14	3	5
Detroit	2	0	0	10	1	4
Boston	2	0	0	12	4	4
Rangers	1	0	1	1	8	1
Toronto	0	2	0	1	9	0
Chicago	0	3	0	6	19	0

scored once while Reay picked up two assists and moved into second place with Elmer Lach in the scoring race.

Lach and Reay each have five points. Bruin's Ed Sandford leads with six.

Three of the Montreal goals were tallied by Dick Irvin's surprise combination of Carveth-Dussault-Reay. This trio has accounted for six of Montreal's 14 goals in three games.

Canadiens margin in the play was shown in the saves—28 by Turk Broda against 13 by Durnan.

Elmer Lach started the scoring parade early in the first period on a play with rookie George Robertson. In the second session the Dussault-Reay-Carveth line collected three goals.

Leafs turned on the pressure in the second period when Canadiens were short-handed. Max Bentley and Ted Kennedy both nicked the goal posts with their drives as the visitors missed their only good opportunities to score.

LEAFS DISORGANIZED

Leafs could seldom get an attack organized, and when they did they ran into a stubborn Canadian defence and Durnan's smart goaltending.

They appeared particularly to miss Syl Apps, their centre-ice general for many years, and at times floundered about inside their own blue line.

There was plenty of rugged play and close checking. Thirteen penalties were handed out, the Leafs drawing seven. Bill Barlow and Murphy Chamberlain drew majors for fighting late in the third period. It was Chamberlain's fourth penalty of the game.

SUMMARY
First Period—1, Montreal Lach (Robertson), 2:24. Penalties: Edinick, Lach, Chamberlain, Kennedy.
Second Period—2, Montreal, Dussault (Reay), 1:12; 3, Montreal, Carveth (Reay, Harvey), 6:28; 4, Montreal, Reay (Dussault), 14:48. Penalties: Bosch, Robertson, Chamberlain, Edinick.
Third Period—3, Montreal, Harmon (Mordell), 14:51. Penalties: Morton, Chamberlain (minor and major), Barlow (minor and major).

Baseball Manager Draws Jail Term For Throwing Game

WINSTON, Salem, N.C. (AP)—A 31-year-old baseball manager, who turned state's evidence and pleaded guilty to throwing a Class C baseball game, was sentenced to serve a year in prison Thursday.

Two other men who pleaded innocent to the same charges were freed.

Bernard Deforge, former pitcher-manager of the Reidsville, N.C., Carolina League club and one-time player for Montreal Royals of the International League, was sentenced by Judge Allen Gwyn.

W. C. McWaters and Tommy Phillips, used-automobile dealers of Clover, S.C., were acquitted by a jury which deliberated 37 minutes.

A fourth defendant, Emmanuel Weingarten, former owner of the Florence, S.C., Tri-State League team, and the Leaksville, N.C., Blue Ridge League team, died before the trial.

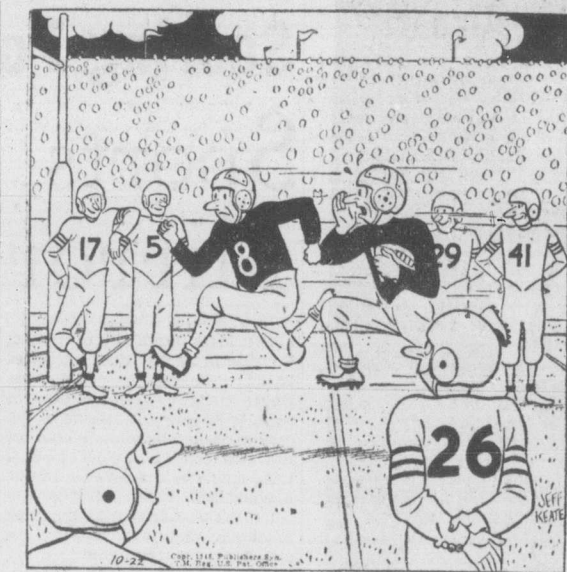

All were charged with conspiracy and bribery in connection with the fixing of a league game between Reidsville and Winston-Salem at the latter's home park last May 14.

BELGIAN RIDERS LEAD

NEW YORK (AP)—The Belgian team of Louis Saen and Emile Bruneau retained its two-lead in the six-day bicycle race at Kingsbridge Armory today, reaching a distance of 1,490 miles and six laps.

Carl Koblauch of Denmark was forced out of the race with an infected hand, leaving 12 teams in the field.

TIME OUT!

"Er, Ed... you sure we're goin' in the right direction?"

Joe Louis Shows Perfect Timing In Announcement

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Louis, with his usual fine timing, like innumerable other champions, shows he has a little of the comeback spirit in him by announcing he will fight again next year.

It's true the big guy never has been away, but at the same time he announced from the ring after his last bout against Jersey Joe Walcott that he was through, only neglecting to say "positively."

The timing element is noted in that his current announcement comes on the eve of an exhibition tour.

There are two schools of thought as to the wisdom of the champion fighting again.

Those who don't like the idea probably are influenced by sentimental reasons. They want to remember Louis as the great fighter he unquestionably was. In his last two fights, with Walcott, Louis' slip was showing more than a little.

The other school takes the "why not?" attitude. The students figure that as fighters go, the champion has taken comparatively little punishment, and would not endanger his well-being by continuing to fight.

NEEDS BIG INCOME

Fighting is his business, and a businessman doesn't make money by retiring. Louis has a plush standard of living, which takes an income much greater than his would be in retirement.

On top of that, who does he have to fear right now? Faded as he is, he still would be an odds-on favorite against any fighter currently on the horizon.

He got by the man who probably was his most dangerous opponent at this stage of his career. Walcott, a running, bobbing cutie has a style calculated to make any opponent look bad, and Louis was no exception.

The men mentioned as the possible opponent in the next fight are Joe Baksi, Ezzard Charles and Lee Savold. Only Charles, a much younger and faster man, might conceivably give the champion trouble and Charles is a lightweight.

Valuable Sporting Dogs At Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fugitives from the British austerity laws, two valuable sporting dogs have come to make their home here.

They are sleek coal-black Labrador retrievers brought here by Donald Adamson, one of the Old Country's leading breeders. He refused an offer of $2,000 for one of them.

The pair, brought from Glasgow, won more than 500 prizes in the Old Country.

Adamson said he had to dispose of his kennel because of shortage of meat and the lack of game for training purposes.

Tips On Golf Rules

By ROBERT FOULIS
Tip No. 34
BALL ON LIP, WAITS TOO LONG

Question: When a ball lies on the edge of the hole, what time limit, if any, can a player wait to see if the wind assists it into the cup? This came up at a recent tournament and the player insisted there was no rule whereby he could not wait indefinitely for a breeze to help him hole out. He took 22 seconds and the ball fell into the hole. His opponent lodged a complaint.

Answer: Rule 32, subd. 3, applies. The player was clearly in error and in match play would lose the hole, and in medal play suffer a penalty of 2 strokes. Francis—U.S.G.A.

But when "Ted" in Tip No. 33 put his shadow on the ball, it dropped quickly. That is a very different thing from waiting 22 seconds. The question came from Los Angeles where the sun is usually shining. The player might have saved himself a lot of trouble if he had known about this tip and put his shadow on the ball.

Ice on the Putting Green or through the green is considered "casual water." R. and A.

Suspends Fighter

NEW YORK (AP)—Roy Taylor, New York heavyweight, was suspended indefinitely by the New York Athletic Commission Thursday for what was described as an unsatisfactory performance in a fight Tuesday night.

Taylor, who weighs 182½, was stopped by Tami Mauriello, 210, of New York, in the second round of a scheduled 10-round feature.

Fusari Finishes Off Tippy Larkin After Six Rounds

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Charley Fusari, blond Irvington, N.J., welterweight contender, stopped the veteran Tippy Larkin of Garfield, N.J., Thursday night in 2:35 of the sixth round of a scheduled 10-rounder at the Jersey City Armory. Fusari weighed 147, Larkin 143½.

Larkin, showing little of his old master boxing form, never went down in the all-Jersey finale which ended with the 31-year-old vet collapsing against the ropes. Referee Paul Cavalier stopped the bout to save Larkin further punishment.

The winner, who is supposed to have a "promise" of a title shot at welter king Ray Robinson, hit Larkin at will after the second round. He had flattened Tippy in the ninth round of a previous meeting at Madison Square Garden Feb. 14, 1947.

CANADIAN BEATEN

In a six-round preliminary bout, Tito Valles of New York outpointed the veteran Jimmy Calura of Hamilton, Ont. Each weighed 128.

The Tournament of Champions attraction drew 7,687 paid and a gate of $28,958. With Larkin getting a $15,000 guarantee and Fusari drawing down 30 per cent of the gate, there was little profit for the promoters who are the latest threat to Mike Jacobs' ring empire.

BOSTON—Anton Raadik, 160, Chicago, outpointed Al "Red" Priest, 158½, Cambridge, Mass., 10.

'Some Foresee Cut In Provincial Taxes Before Next Election

Observers at the Parliament Buildings are interpreting two reports as meaning that some tax reductions may be in store for British Columbians during the next fiscal year of the provincial government.

The first report holds that department heads have been instructed to halt the upswing during recent years of appropriations. The second report holds that the government's revenues are pouring in at record rates.

A reduction of some taxes is taken as possible strategy of the government for what is probably going to be the last budget before a general election.

The government's revenues are being swollen by the 3 per cent retail sales tax which came into effect July 1 of this year. Of the 3 per cent which is officially estimated to net the province $12,000,000 annually but is unofficially estimated may produce as high as $20,000,000 or even $30,000,000 annually, the province will receive only two-thirds, the other third going to the municipalities of the province.

Other sources of revenue which are believed to have increased during the year are the taxes on gasoline, for sales during the summer have been hitting new monthly records, and lands department revenues. Royalties on timber were increased at the last session of the legislature.

But while revenues are reported rising, the government is also caught in the spiral of inflation which has been felt in nearly all its operations.

This, it is felt by some, may be eating up most of the government's increased revenue, with the result that any tax reductions that the government may plan for the 1949 session of the legislature would be small or possibly no reductions may be undertaken at all.

Normal Students Offer To Canvass In Chest Campaign

Ten future school teachers, who are at present enrolled as students at the Provincial Normal School here, were among those to answer the latest call of the Community Chest for volunteer canvassers.

The students will make house-to-house calls on Saturday in the area which includes Tolmie Avenue, Douglas Street, McKenzie Street, Blenkinsop Road and Maplewood Road.

Chest officials ask that residents in this area be at home and have their contributions ready.

More canvassers are still being sought and persons willing to assist in this way are asked to contact chest headquarters at Prince Robert House by phoning B-4209.

Mock Parliament Planned To Teach Liberals Procedure

Plans are being mapped today by officers of the Victoria Liberal Association to hold the first mock parliament here in 40 years.

Purpose of the parliament, which is scheduled to be held at Liberal Headquarters, 1322A Government Street, Nov. 2, is to educate Liberals in parliamentary procedure and debate," according to D. J. Proudfoot, president of the Victoria Liberal Association. Mr. Proudfoot will serve as prime minister during the mock parliament.

The Nov. 2 mock parliament is the first of seven projected for the winter months.

As prime minister, Mr. Proudfoot will lead a 20-member government. There will be a 15-member opposition, speaker, sergeant-at-arms, division bell, caucus room and many of the other features of a parliament.

Carew Martin will act as governor-general and deliver the Speech from the Throne at the first sitting. The first three sessions will be devoted to the debate on the speech from the throne to be followed by three sittings which will consider the budget.

Government members will be selected from the senior Liberal Association and the Laurier Club. Opposition members will be chosen from the young Liberal group and the Women's Forum.

Warns Tourists May By-Pass City Without Nearby Airport

Greater Victoria may soon find itself being by-passed by a new, rapidly growing and lucrative form of tourist travel if the city doesn't get its Memorial Airport built.

This is the opinion of a man who has had practical and pleasant experience in the establishment of municipal airport in one of B.C.'s smaller cities.

He is Leslie Brice, executive secretary of the B.C. Aviation Council and secretary to the Chilliwack Municipal Airport Board.

Now here in Victoria, Mr. Brice, in an interview, outlined the development and success of the Chilliwack airport and in so doing rebuffed a number of objections of opponents of an airport here.

Interested Chilliwack citizens first began talking objectively of an airport for their city in the middle of the summer of 1945. By June of the next year, the first aircraft landed on Chilliwack's new municipal airport.

When airport plans first came under discussion, recalls Mr. Brice, there was objection on the part of some citizens, but not quite the same organized objection as here.

The Chilliwack opponents seemed to be of the opinion that an airport would be nothing more than a playground for young men. Now, nearly two and one-half years' later, there are no complaints.

As soon as the Chilliwack airport was ready to operate, the field had 15 aircraft based on it, and a plane charter company started up. Chilliwack now has an air ambulance service which is especially important in flying injured men from logging camps.

into hospital in the little mainland city, and, during the Fraser Valley floods, was of great aid.

Value of real estate around the airport has gone up considerably and the airport, which subdivided some of its area not needed, has been getting twice what it paid for the land.

Business revenue from the airport has paid all airport maintenance and has supported a full-time airport manager.

Mr. Brice is convinced that construction of a nearby airport for light aircraft is becoming more and more of a necessity for all cities.

In Chilliwack's case, the airport is only one mile from the city's centre and incoming and outgoing planes are presenting no problem. Mr. Brice pooh-poohed the idea of planes crashing down on homes.

Another feature of a close-in airport, perhaps the most important feature of all, particularly from Victoria's standpoint is the influx of tourists it brings from other parts of Canada and the U.S.

Mr. Brice said Chilliwack has found this from experience. The city has been experiencing a considerable increase in business. More and more tourists are taking to the air, and those that do are usually the bigger money spenders.

This new breed of tourists is not going to bother calling in at cities where close-in landing facilities are not provided, Mr. Brice believes.

"As air travel increases, these long distances from airport to city centre are going to retard air travel, because people go to cities that have airports within easy reach."

Board To Complete Study Of Saanich Fares Next Week

A thorough study of routes, accounts, population and cost of service is expected to be completed by officers of the Public Utilities Commission next week in connection with the application of the Vancouver Island Coach Lines Ltd. to increase bus fares on the Saanich peninsula beyond the Greater Victoria transportation area.

The study is being made by the commission's motor carrier branch, Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the commission, said that some of the new increases asked were considerable and the commission wanted a full report before acting on the application.

Dr. Carrothers indicated that while the reports of the officers may be made next week, it may be later before the commission acts on the application which now has been before the commission for some time.

Saanich peninsula bus fares are the last to be increased in this area. Previously the commission had approved new fare schedules for the Coast Lines and B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. in the Greater Victoria transit area and, for the Coast Lines on its "long haul" lines which serve up-island centres.

D.P. Camp Generally Satisfactory But Some Improvements Needed

WINNIPEG (CP) — A provincial health department report today described conditions at the Emerson, Man., displaced persons' camp as "basically satisfactory," but included five recommendations concerned mainly with personal hygiene.

The report, issued in conjunction with a statement by Agriculture Minister D. L. Campbell, followed published allegations that the D.P.'s were living in conditions of "squalor, filth and misery."

These reports resulted in investigations from provincial and federal departments visiting the camp. The federal report, not yet issued, is said to be delayed pending an additional survey under way today by members of the Dominion-Provincial farm labor committee.

The health department report, over the signature of K. G. MacQuarrie, district sanitary inspector, said that for the camp to comply fully with the Public Health Act certain recommendations should be followed:

A clean-up of the area surrounding the camp; eating in places other than the dining hall to be discouraged; a daily hut house-keeping program to be instituted; recent damage to privies to be repaired; and impervious covering to be supplied for dining hall tables.

"The area around huts is untidy, due to the men throwing out eggshells, tin cans, cigarette boxes, etc., but this is definitely a matter of poor personal hygiene."

"Bacteriological results of two samples of drinking water are both negative."

NO THREATS APPROVED
Mr. Campbell said his department did not endorse letters which D.P.'s said during the investigation they had received from the Manitoba Farm Help Service warning them that "every time you object to fair treatment it will be placed on your record at Ottawa and if you become undesirable citizens you will not be wanted here. There are always boats leaving Canada for Europe."

The agriculture minister's statement said his department "believes that observance of its program can be accomplished without any implication of a threat . . . notification to this effect is being forwarded to the individuals concerned."

Welcome University Students To City Welfare Offices

The city's social welfare committee today approved a request from the University of British Columbia that two social service students be allowed to work in the Victoria offices for five months to obtain practical training.

Ald. Margaret Christie, chairman of the committee, said she was proud that the university has for the first time recognized the Victoria welfare organization by making such a request.

"We will be glad to have two students with us," she said. "I know they will obtain first-rate instruction here and at the same time they will relieve to a certain extent our workers."

Mrs. Christie pointed out that each worker in the city department has a case load of 360 each month. Total case load in September was 2,264.

In September 445 social assistance cases were carried by the department. There were 26 mothers' allowance cases and 26 family services cases looked after. The major work was with old age pensioners though. A total of 1,101 were attended.

The U.B.C. students will arrive in January and remain until the end of May.

Fairfield Buses To Change Routes

A change in the routing of Richardson and Gonzales buses in the vicinity of St. Joseph's Hospital is planned.

The city transportation committee is recommending to the City Council that instead of travelling along Douglas Street to Humbolt Street to Rupert Street to Fairfield Road, buses use Douglas to Burdett to Collinson to Rupert to Fairfield Road.

Change was approved by the committee Thursday at the request of hospital officials to reduce traffic noise.

New Plan Studied To Revise Rates For Water Heaters

Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, today reported that the application to increase the flat rate for domestic electric hot water heating has been withdrawn by the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd.

The application was heard by the commission at the same time that the commission heard evidence which led to the increase of the Greater Victoria transit fares.

Reserving judgment on the electric hot water heating rate increase application the commission made certain suggestions to the company with the result that the application was withdrawn. Dr. Carrothers, while not explaining in detail the alternate suggestions, indicated that the commission was trying to accomplish the same goal as the company without overburdening certain householders.

At the time of the hearing the company reported that its application was not being made to increase revenue but to curb excessive power use. Nevertheless the company's suggested new rates would mean considerable increases in costs for certain consumers, Dr. Carrothers said.

The company now is studying the commission's suggestions and it is expected that it will make another application to the commission before long.

Non-Partisan Group Plans Annual Meeting

The Victoria Civic Non-Partisan League will hold its annual general meeting Nov. 4 at 8 in the evening in the Chamber of Commerce boardroom.

Nomination and election of officers, directors and committees will take place.

Main business will be the endorsement of candidates for the Dec. 9 elections. Terms of five aldermen expire this year. Mayor Percy George was elected last year for a two-year term.

Last year the league supported Mayor George, three aldermen, two of whom were elected, one school trustee who was elected and one police commissioner who was elected.

Rev. Andrew Reid, D.D., who has just returned from a visit to the British Isles, will give an address on "London After the War" in Metropolitan school-room next Wednesday evening at 8. There will be a musical program.

... That City Again!

An official of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce is toying with the old idea of changing the name of Vancouver Island so that easterners and others will stop confusing this island with the mainland city on Burrard Inlet.

He was prompted to such thoughts by a sub-heading on an article on Victoria which appears in the current issue of Seaports and Airports Magazine, a trade journal published in Montreal for shipping and aviation men.

Covering three full pages and illustrated with six photographs, the article is titled: "Victoria, An Ice Free Port," and bears the sub-heading: "Leading city, largest seaport, and commerce centre of Vancouver, B.C."

S.P.C.A. Shelter Opens Saturday

Mayor Percy George will officiate at the opening of the new S.P.C.A. Animal Shelter at the corner of Tyee Road and Wilson Street, at 3 Saturday afternoon.

Erection of the shelter was made possible through a bequest in the will of Mrs. Lillias Mary Brooks who died Nov. 27, 1928.

The S.P.C.A. will house orphan animals looking for homes and will be able to board dogs and cats in the modern kennels. Mrs. James Barr, honorary corresponding secretary said today, "Due to shortages of materials the kennels are not complete yet, but are expected to be ready for operation shortly."

The S.P.C.A. office and caretaker's home will be established at the Shelter, 111 Wilson Street. The telephone number is E 0514.

Victoria Man Wins Seattle Show Prize

A chrysanthemum bloom exhibited by Len Holyoak, 2029 Carnarvon Street, in the current international chrysanthemum show being held in the Olympic Hotel, Seattle, has won first prize in a division for cut flowers from Canada and Washington state, it was learned today.

Mr. Holyoak left Victoria with a number of chrysanthemum blooms Wednesday. Another Victorian with blooms entered in the show is David Nicol, 1944 Beach Drive.

It is understood over 20,000 blooms are being displayed in the show.

Bus Crash Kills Two

COMO, Miss. (AP) — A bus driver and two women passengers were killed Thursday when 2,000 board feet of lumber was driven through the side of the bus in a collision with a truck. Police said the bus and lumber truck collided on a stretch of highway obscured by smoke from grass fires.

Man Charged With Attempted Entry Of Beauty Shop

Leo Allen, 40, appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court and was charged with unlawfully attempting to break and enter Pratt's Victoria Beauty and Barber Supply Co., 747 View Street, by night with intent to commit an indictable offence early this morning.

P. S. Millar appeared as defence counsel and his request for a remand to Oct. 28 was granted. No election or plea was taken.

Allen was apprehended shortly after midnight by Constable John Birch, who was making his check of business premises on his beat at that time.

Magistrate Hall fixed bail at $1,500 after C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, had asked for it to be substantial.

Inspector To Judge Potatoes In Toronto

H. S. MacLeod, Dominion district inspector, who has had charge of seed potato certification work in B.C. since 1927, has been chosen as one of the potato judges at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair to be held in Toronto Nov. 16 to 24, it was learned today.

Mr. MacLeod is well known among Vancouver Island certified seed potato producers. While it could not be learned how many B.C. potato producers would be sending exhibits to the Toronto fair this year, last year B.C. growers took a good share of the premier awards in the seed potato class. Among the winners were Edgar Smith, William Wellenbrink and J. Reid from the Courtenay district.

Entries for the fair close Nov. 1.

Brentwood Man Injured In Fall

Severe injuries to shoulder and ankle was sustained by Gordon Lewis, Clark Road, Brentwood Bay, this morning when he fell from a rooftop at Todd Inlet to a cement sidewalk below. He was knocked unconscious by the fall. Sgt. Eric Elwell and Constable Joseph Armstrong attended and conveyed him to Jubilee Hospital.

6 Months In Jail For Hunter Who Assaulted Farmer

For striking a farmer who was ordering him off his property, George Farmer, 2651 Ancomb Place, Oak Bay, was sentenced to six months in Oakalla at hard labor, by Magistrate H. C. Hall, in Saanich police court yesterday afternoon.

After hearing the evidence in the 80-minute trial, Magistrate Hall found the young contractor and builder guilty of assaulting William Taylor, farmer, Telegraph Road, and causing him actual bodily harm on Oct. 16. There was no alternative of a fine.

Joseph McKenna, defence counsel, said after the trial that he would appeal the sentence. C. L. Harrison, municipal prosecutor, acted for the Crown. George F. Gregory appeared for the complainant.

Dr. John G. Patterson told the court seven stitches and a minor plastic operation were required on the farmer's face. Such a wound would necessitate a blow of considerable force, he said.

ORDERED TO LEAVE

Evidence of Taylor was that when he accosted Farmer and his companion, Robert Noble, Jr., 1536 Athlone Place, on his property, he ordered them to leave as they did not have permission. This was the opening day of the pheasant shooting season.

Taylor said Noble agreed to go, but Farmer insisted on proceeding on his way over the property. Witness said that after he had repeated the demand several times to accused, he finally threatened to call in the police.

"Accused threw down his gun and hit me on the mouth with his fist," Taylor told the court.

Taylor said there was a "no shooting" sign within 15 feet of where they were standing.

Taylor said that later accused came to the house and wanted to settle for hospital and doctor bills.

"I referred him to my lawyer," witness said.

In the witness box, Farmer said he saw no signs up prohibiting shooting. He said Taylor kept putting his face up to his and telling him to "get out."

Accused said he had no intention of hitting the farmer, but that Taylor kept gesticulating and moving his hands and arms. He guessed he only hit in self-defence, Farmer told the court.

Mr. McKenna said the "failing arms of the complainant had been some provocation for his client's actions. He noted Farmer's clean record and suggested a fine would cover the punishment in the case.

Mr. Harrison, however, who was very persistent in his cross-examination of defence witnesses, classed the act as "the most cowardly of blows," noting particularly the smallness of Taylor compared to the 165-pound six-foot accused.

"I think this was the most disgraceful thing I've heard of. I can see not a shred of excuse for the act, the prosecutor said.

Magistrate Hall said he did not believe Farmer's story but did Taylor's, which he noted was substantiated in part by Noble's account.

"To call that blow self-defence is deliberate nonsense and adds insult to injury," Magistrate Hall declared.

Employee Takes Claim For Wages To Police Court

Trial of Eric Oldaker, 416 Vancouver Street, manager of the Victoria Paint and Sales Co., on a charge of failure to pay semi-monthly wages to an employee, was remanded to Monday in city police court Thursday by Magistrate H. C. Hall in order to secure books and accounts of the firm as evidence.

George H. Reid, 1711 Lee Avenue, told the court accused owed him wages for the period of July 31 and Sept. 30 of this year. His requests for pay from his employer had brought repeated replies he did not have the money.

Oldaker told the court of heavy financial difficulties he had encountered since establishing the business in 1946 after service discharge. He admitted Reid had loaned him $500 last year to help him over difficult times, but had not paid the money back yet. Accused said he always consulted Reid on a job and considered him as a sort of partner, not an employee. He said he always paid Reid when he received money from contracts.

Adjournment was ordered to secure books of the firm, at present under the lock and key of the sheriff's office.

Britain And Spain Main Stumbling Blocks To Russia's Plan

By CLARKE BEACH

NEW YORK—Should war come soon the West could not hope to hold back Russia's vast army on the continent until it reached the Pyrenees, in the opinion of one high-placed Washington official.

If Russia chose to start a war, he said, "Her sweep across Europe wouldn't be a campaign. It would be a march. Just a matter of co-ordinating her various forces and making best use of railroads and highways."

Western Union forces, including United States occupation troops, he said, would resist bitterly at the natural barriers. But the Red tide could not be stemmed until it reached Spain's northern border and the shores and channel waters of southern England.

ATOM BOMB LITTLE USE

He said the U.S. and the Western Union allies have no more than 300,000 well-equipped troops in Europe, and the Russians have more than 1,700,000. The atomic bomb would be of little use in resisting an invasion of Europe. It could not be used effectively in opposing armies in the field. For best effect it must be used on large concentrations of population and industry.

Another man in an important official position who outlined to me his conception of what Russia's strategy would be in case of war said:

"If I were the Russians and intended to make war, I would want to keep the western powers at a distance, deny them bases within bombing range, close all sea approaches to Russia and so prevent the United States and Britain from using their navies. To do that I would bottle up the Baltic by establishing bases in northern Denmark and the surrounding Danish islands. I would close the Barents Sea. You could do that by taking the Spitzbergen Islands, north of Norway, which command the Murmansk route to Russia."

GIBRALTAR NOT NEEDED

"I would bottle up the Mediterranean by seizing the southern tip of Spain. Artillery at Tarifa could control the straits between Spain and Africa. You wouldn't have to take Gibraltar. It's around the corner of the cape, and is useful chiefly as a naval base."

Russia wouldn't have to land a man on Spitzbergen to take control of these islands, he said. There are enough Russians mining coal there now, under a treaty arrangement with Norway, to take over the place if they were armed, he said.

Russia's sweep across Europe would be along the traditional invasion routes, in the opinion of both men. She would need the railroads and highways of the timeworn passages and the northern plains even more than Germany did. Germany previously had used the passes, but in the last war she thrust armored columns through the rough, undeveloped Ardennes forest area.

LACKS TRANSPORTATION

But Russia in that war did not depend on manoeuvre. She did not have sufficient transportation to feint, sprint and circle. And she doesn't have it now. She advances mass armies in fairly even lines. She likes to keep her forces linked up, abreast, on dry land.

So undoubtedly, they said, the Red Army would pour across northern Germany, through the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. There on the northern coastal plains are plenty of good highways, railroads and flat country.

Another Red mass would surge through the Toul Gap, in the Nancy and Metz areas, lying between the Ardennes Forest and the Vosges Mountains. A third probably would pour over the Belfort Gap, farther south in the Vosges.

A fourth simultaneous attack might come across the gap at Ljubljana, Yugoslavia. There the Russians could pass from the Danube to northern Italy's rich Po Valley through a well traveled route that lies between the Alps and the mountainous Dalmatian coast.

TITO'S PERMISSION

Tito would have to give his permission and co-operation for a move across the Ljubljana Gap. In the North, Czechoslovakia would have to co-operate for the Russians to move masses of men across Bohemia into southern Germany and the Toul and Belfort gaps.

No stand would be possible inside Germany, in the opinion of these men. Their guess is that the Allied Occupation troops in Germany would have to retire to the natural barriers on the northern borders of France to make their final stand.

Spain holds the key to Russian defeat on the continent, in the opinion of one of these men. The Spanish have 20 divisions under arms and another 30 they could quickly call up, he said. If given naval support on all her coasts, she could hold the Russians at the Pyrenees.

The big battles would shape up on the coasts, in the area of Bayonne on the west and Barcelona on the east. There the mountains drop to the sea, and the railroads skirt the shore. There are two other passes in the mountains, crossed by railroads, but they are too high, in the opinion of this man, for a successful offensive by mass armies.

TIME TO PRODUCE

If Spain held out, the U.S. would have bases from which to operate when at length it built up its war production and trained its army.

If Spain fell into Russian hands, however, Russia could close the Mediterranean. Controversy over the Turkish Straits, guarding the Black Sea, would become academic, for the whole area would be in Russia's grip. Vital Middle East oil lands would be much less accessible and infinitely harder to defend.

If Spain and Britain held out, however, and these men believe both countries could be held—Russia would be forced to keep millions of men deployed on the periphery of Europe, on the western and southern flanks. If those two countries were in Russian hands, Russia could hold Europe lightly and concentrate her vast manpower wherever she chose.

"If the Russians wanted to

A new Sunday schoolroom was recently built to accommodate increasing attendance of children. Proceeds from the card parties will aid construction of the new addition to the church.

Road, Poll Taxes Bring City $33,000

About 3,900 citizens have paid almost $20,000 in poll taxes, and about 6,500 have paid close to $13,000 in road taxes so far this year.

Collections are slightly better than last year's, reports Thomas Harris, road, poll and dog tax collector.

He said the estimated revenue from the $5 poll tax is $22,000 and from the $2 road tax $14,000. Last year $23,235 was collected in poll taxes and $15,124 in road taxes.

Non-property owners must pay the $7 in the two taxes to be eligible to vote in the December elections. If they were not on the voters' list last year, they must register after paying the taxes.

STILL PICKING RASPBERRIES

SOOKE—Raspberries are still being picked at Sooke and if the sunny weather continues, farmers are expecting that a second crop, now heavy on the branches, may mature.

Pearkes Addresses Conservative Group

COBBLE HILL—Credit for the Liberal government for all that had been done for the country during trying war times, but belief that through prolonged power, the government had become apathetic and inclined to put off important decisions, was expressed by Maj-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P., at a meeting of the Malahat District Progressive Conservative Association at Cobble Hill.

Speaking with Gen. Pearkes was W. J. Garnett, who attended the convention as a delegate from the Nanaimo riding.

Gen. Pearkes spoke of the keen interest taken in all deliberations at the convention. He said the introduction of new blood was necessary in the life of the Progressive Conservative Party and could only be obtained by educating the young people as to what the Conservative Party had to offer.

So many men always wear Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear... and so many wear the same models year after year... that sales people in the stores tell us they are constantly filling orders by the numbers. Many customers ordering "6400" or "6401" or "3612", take it for granted the clerk not only knows the Stanfield numbers but knows they would wear no other brand.

Stanfield's is the underwear famous for more than 60 years for being soft, warm and durable... made unshrinkable by Stanfield's own exclusive process. In a complete range of combination and separate shirts-and-drawers styles, in a variety of weights.

The DOCTOR Says:

No one likes to grow old, but there is nothing that can be done to prevent it. The change from a vigorous healthy person into a feeble and sometimes ailing one is distressing to family and friends, as well as to the individual personally.

Women, in general, have a considerably greater hold on life than men do. There are, in other words, many more old ladies than there are old men.

In other respects, however, women in their older years are not so fortunate. A high proportion of women over 85 suffer from the effects of a decline of function in the inner ear and the connections of this organ with the brain. Nearly three out of four women of this age or over suffer from dizziness, a liability to tumble, and, even more, from difficulty in getting around in the dark. A high proportion—nearly 70 out of 100—are deaf.

MEN MAY BE LUCKIER

These are not happy qualities, and the combination of dizziness and difficulty in getting about in the dark enormously increases the danger to elderly women of broken bones. Men, who live to this age, suffer in a similar way, but there is some question whether they are as liable to serious ear difficulties as the women.

Particularly important is the increasing number of elderly people in our population. This means that more and more vigorous adults are becoming responsible for aging parents. More homes and institutions, capable of caring comfortably and happily for the increasing number of us who are living into old age, would help to reduce this burden.

Question: What is a cystocele? Answer: This is an outpouching of the urinary bladder, usually in the direction of the rectum. It is caused by a weakening of the wall of the bladder. When severe, the treatment involves surgery.

Dot Lamour Wishes To Be Given Release From Movie Contract

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dorothy Lamour plans to seek complete freedom from Paramount, where she got her start in pictures.

The New Orleans singing girl left the home lot a year ago, but the studio retained rights for one film yearly. This year's commitment has been given to Pine Thomas for "Betrayed" with Dan Duryea. Doty resents being shunted to the independent unit, even if it is for a high-budget picture.

Lamour, who has been busy on the independent film circuit and with her air show, has two more films to make for Paramount. Whether she'll win a release is problematical. The studio might want to keep her on tap in case Bing and Bob hit the "road" again.

HITHER AND YAWN!

When Jane Wyman signed her Warner's contract in 1936, she wrote this in her biography questionnaire: "My ambition is not to be just an actress, but The actress of Warner Bros." It took a long time, but—after "Johnny Belinda"—she just about has her wish.

"Robinson Crusoe" will be filmed in Jamaica—if M-G-M can line up a leading man. Several stars have shied away from the role, feeling it's too much of a strain and a danger to be alone on the screen for so long.

Rochelle Hudson is drawing a lot of comment in the local revival of "Burlesque" with Bert Lahr. She's as pretty and shapely as she was at Fox back in the early '30's... safe bet: that Agnes Moorehead is the only Hollywood actress with a Ph.D. It's in literature.

Hard-Riding Easy For Robert Young

People shouldn't be surprised that Robert Young picked for his debut as a producer-star Columbia's Technicolor Western drama "Relentless," now at the Atlas Theatre. It seemed only natural that he would select a film which called for hard riding.

Young first learned to ride in 1937 for "Florian," in which he had to train a horse and ride "dressage," in fancy style on a high-stepping horse.

'Mickey' Featured On Capitol Screen

"The best coloratura voice I ever heard," is the way John Charles Thomas, the noted tenor, described 16-year-old Lois Butler, star of Eagle Lion's Cinecolor production "Mickey," opening at the Capitol Theatre.

Lois, who has a singing range of three octaves, from G to G above high C, has been taking singing lessons for only five years, despite the fact that she gave her first recital at the tender age of two.

Her first and only vocal coach has been Ralph Thomas who has trained many famous singers. It was Lois' voice, spectacular in someone of her age, that caught the attention of Bryan Foy, Eagle Lion vice-president, and resulted in her starring role in "Mickey."

Times Newsboys To See Dominion Show

Martin Cave, manager of the Dominion Theatre, has invited the Times newspaper boys to be the guests of the theatre during the showing of "Fighting Father Dunne," which opens today for a three-day run.

Weaving its unusual story around the career of the priest who founded a famous newspaper boys' home in St. Louis, the picture "Fighting Father Dunne" will prove to be absorbing entertainment.

ODEON THEATRE

Friends of Babe Ruth are careful to point out that St. Mary's Industrial School, where he received his early training, was neither an orphanage nor a reform school, according to popular misconception. It was a school where boys were sent to learn a trade; in the Bambino's case, tailoring. Scenes at this famed Baltimore institution are shown in Roy Del Ruth's Allied Artists production, "The Babe Ruth Story," starring William Bendix, Claire Trevor and Charles Bickford, which is at the Odeon Theatre.

ROYAL THEATRE

Used car buyers may find some consolation in the experience of the Twentieth Century-Fox prop department, faced with the problem of supplying a number of 1908 vehicles for Cornel Wilde, Linda Darnell, Anne Baxter and Kirk Douglas to ride in "The Walls of Jericho," currently at the Royal Theatre.

The studio bought nine of the old cars, mostly from private persons, at an average cost of $3,800. For fear that the 40-year-old vehicles might break down in the middle of a scene and hold up production, the ancient motors were removed and replaced with new ones, with adjustments that allowed them to be started by cranking.

Where To Go Tonight

(As Advertised)

ATLAS—"Relentless," starring Robert Young and Marguerite Chapman.

CAPITOL—"Mickey," starring Lois Butler.

DOMINION—Pat O'Brien in "Fighting Father Dunne."

OAK BAY—Larry Parks in "The Swordsman."

ODEON—"The Babe Ruth Story," starring William Bendix.

PLAZA—"Are You With It?" starring Donald O'Connor.

RIO—"Congorilla," by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson.

ROYAL—"The Walls of Jericho," starring Cornel Wilde and Linda Darnell.

YORK INTERNATIONAL—Fredric March and Myrna Loy in "The Best Years of Our Lives."

YORK THEATRE

Samuel Goldwyn is sticking to his stand of refusing to cut the three-hour length of his prize-winning RKO Radio release "The Best Years of Our Lives." Although he could substantially increase his profits from the regular engagement, which is now at the York Theatre, by reducing the running time to the average hour and a half, the producer refuses to do so.

PLAZA THEATRE

New songs, which were not included in the Broadway show "Are You With It?" were specially written by Sidney Miller and Inez James for Universal-International's film based upon the New York musical comedy and now at the Plaza Theatre.

Outstanding among the new tunes is "Down at Babas Alley," a comedy number in which Donald O'Connor, supported by a bevy of harem cuties, does an effective burlesque of the cavortings of a merry Sultan.

ODEON THEATRE

It is not the elephants and ferocious lions that are hated by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson, whose latest achievement "Congorilla," the first picture to be completely sounded and shot in the jungle, is now at the Rio Theatre. The leopards and rhinoceri are what get Mrs. Johnson all excited. "I'd rather be killed by a lion any day than mauled by a leopard," she said.

Pat O'Brien In Role Of 'Father Dunne'

Giving Pat O'Brien another of the biographical roles he handles so well, RKO Radio's "Fighting Father Dunne" opens today at the Dominion Theatre to present the real-life story of the famous St. Louis priest and his work with the underprivileged youngsters of his city.

O'Brien does an excellent job in the role of Father Peter Dunne, his characterization being warmly human and believable. In telling its tale of the priest's struggle to make a start with his Newsboys' Home, the film achieves a happy realism that is deftly carried on to the later sequences as the Home prospers and Father Dunne sees his life work succeeding.

Deserters Say 70% Of Russians Dislike Communist Regime

LINZ, Austria (AP)—Two deserters from the Russian air force said here 70 per cent of the Russians dislike Communist rule.

But they are "afraid to do anything about it," they added.

The men, both lieutenants, are Piotr Pirogov, 27, navigator of the plane in which they flew from the Ukraine to Linz Oct. 9, and Anatoly Barsov, 31, the pilot. They gave their views Thursday at a press conference.

The lieutenants said the Russian people have looked in vain for the better life promised at the end of the war. Pirogov said the dislike of the Russian people for communism stems from the fact that they are basically farmers and do not like the collective farms the Kremlin long ago decreed.

The officers said the "Voice of America" broadcasts had greatly influenced them to escape.

(Officials in Washington said the Voice of America had never urged anyone to leave Russia.)

Asked how many Russians listened to the program, Barsov said:

"That is a hard question to answer, but I believe everyone within range who has a radio listens to the broadcasts regularly. The Russian people are really in-

Motorists Pay $175 In Fines In Saanich Court

Saanich police are again bearing down heavily on motorists who do not check their speeds. It was shown in yesterday's list of fines in the municipal police court. A total of $175 was paid in minor traffic fines. Four motorists paid $15 each for exceeding the general speed limit. Five paid $10 each for going through a school zone at a faster rate than 15 miles an hour. Five motorists paid the same for going over the double line. Other fines were for improper parking and failing to halt at stop signs.

Policeman Wins 83-Mile-An-Hour Race

Speeds up to 83 miles an hour were recorded in the four-mile chase between Sgt. Cecil Pearce of Saanich Police and Gordon M. McLeod, Abbotsford Hotel, Vancouver, shortly after 8 yesterday morning before the visitor was apprehended and finally appeared in police court.

He pleaded guilty to the dangerous driving charge lodged against him, was fined $50 and had his license suspended for two months. Accused appealed for no suspension on the grounds he drove 6,000 to 7,000 miles a month in his business. He got no sympathy from Magistrate H. C. Hall.

Highland Games Ass'n. Elects New President

John Grant was elected president of the Victoria Highland Games Association at the annual meeting.

Other officers elected include Alex Cameron, vice-president; John Mackay, secretary-treasurer; Ian Duncan, Alex Allnut, Gib Anderson, George Stewart, William Fulton, Donald Graham and McLeod Baird, committee chairmen.

Retiring president, E. M. Whyte, thanked all members present for their support during his two-year term of office.

Thieves Scared Off

Thieves who had robbery ambitions at the Newport Pharmacy, Windsor Road and Newport Avenue, early Thursday morning, were apparently forced to leave in a hurry without completing their aim. Oak Bay police reported a small side window had been smashed, but no entry was made. Constable Alfred Best, on his early-morning check, discovered the attempt. There was a normal amount of money in the cash register, Clyde Savage, owner, reported.

Kathleen M. Fox was found guilty on a charge of dangerous driving and was fined $40 by Magistrate H. C. Hall in Saanich Police Court Thursday afternoon. Her license was suspended for one month by Magistrate H. C. Hall. Mrs. Fox's car was in collision with one driven by William Green on the evening of Oct. 7 at Douglas Street and Carey Road.

$400,000,000 Of Britain's Marshall Funds To Canada

LONDON (Reuter) — During the year which ends next June, Britain will spend more than $400,000,000 of her Marshall Plan funds to buy Canadian grain, meat, bacon, cheese, minerals and timber, it was announced Thursday night.

Her aim will be to boost exports to the western hemisphere to 2 1/2 times the prewar level. Her over-all export volume is expected to be 137 per cent of prewar.

Imports from the western hemisphere dollar area will be held to $1,642,000,000 compared with $2,289,000,000 in 1947.

Britain plans to export 19,000,000 tons of coal in the same 12 months, about twice as much as in the preceding year.

Textile exports will be expanded considerably. There will be no significant improvement in Britain's consumption of food and consumer goods. Tobacco consumption will be cut by 5 per cent.

These and other British plans for the year ending next June were revealed in the program the government submitted to the recent Paris meeting of the economic co-operation.

The program explains how Britain proposes, with the agreed amount of U.S. aid under the European Recovery Program, ultimately to close her dollar gap completely.

Duke Of Edinburgh Retires From Navy; Formal From Now On

LONDON (CP)—The Duke of Edinburgh entered into a new phase of his life when he retired from the active list of the Royal navy and went on half pay.

As consort of the future Queen he has entered on a long series of official engagements that call for more observance of formalities than has been his custom.

In other words, he can have his pint of beer, but not with the boys in the pub.

The fast low-built sports car which flung him into a ditch during his engagement period has gone—lent to Lieut. Michael Parker, squerry to the royal couple. Prince Philip now uses a sedate streamlined saloon driven by a chauffeur at calmer speeds.

But while he now is conforming to a more formal pattern, Philip still cannot be called sedate. Impatient of delay, he races along the quiet corridors of Buckingham Palace to the peril of old-fashioned retainers.

Soon after the delivery of his new car he dashed to Buckingham Palace from the Admiralty at lunch-time and actually tested it out in the near-sacrosanct inner quadrangle where the King and Queen often take an after-dinner stroll.

Down at Windesham Moor, where the Princess and the Duke have rented a country house, he rigged up a cricket net on the lawn recently and soon had Elizabeth's surprised chauffeur and her personal detective bowling to him.

When it became known Princess Elizabeth was expecting a baby, a well-meaning official proposed that Philip should remain on the active list of the Royal Navy with a sinecure appointment in London or Portsmouth which he could leave whenever he liked.

Philip turned down the proposal with an emphatic "no." He said he wanted his position made clear and unambiguous, even if it meant leaving the service for a while. As a result, he was put on the navy's half-pay list.

So far, however, he has made no attempt to interfere with the official side of Princess Elizabeth's life. He wanted to take her to the Riviera for a holiday this year, but made no protest when overruled.

Earlier, Clay told reporters he had "no evidence" of troop activities in eastern Germany that indicate Russian preparation for war.

The Russians, he said, have a "communist-indoctrinated police force" of 200,000 to 300,000 men in the eastern zone of Germany. Similar allied forces are "very small."

Clay said the air-lift had succeeded and could be maintained as long as "is necessary for our statesmen to find a solution" to the Berlin blockade. He said he did not anticipate any Russian violence in the air corridor.

Clay flew back to Berlin Thursday night after a speech in New York at the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Dinner.
